U.N. Council To Deal With Hyderabad War

PARIS (AP)—The United Nations announced today that the Security Council will meet Thursday on the invasion of Hyderabad by India.

The council was called, at the request of Hyderabad, by Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan, president of the council for September. It will be the first United Nations meeting in the Palais de Chaillot where the General Assembly will convene next week.

INDIANS TAKE TOWN

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian troops in a lightning invasion of Hyderabad today captured the town of Rajasur, halfway from their jumping off point of Scholapur to Hyderabad city, heart and capital of the princely state.

Another tank-led column thundering down from the northwest captured the important rail town of Jalna on the Nizam's state railroad after a penetration of 70 miles into Hyderabad. Jalna is 250 miles from the capital.

Rajasur is 90 miles to the west and in the area where the Indian army had found its hardest resistance.

The Indians driving in from the east captured Suriapet, 90 miles east of Hyderabad city.

Troops in the northwest also captured Daulatabad, also a communications centre 60 miles west of Jalna against "strong resistance."

COMMUNIQUE ISSUED

The successes were recounted in a Defence Ministry communique issued shortly after noon when the invasion was less than 36 hours old.

A headquarters spokesman said he did not expect the campaign to last long, despite the stiffening opposition.

(A Hyderabad communique received in Karachi, Pakistan, Monday night said the Indian invasion had been stopped at all points, with losses of 1,000 Indian troops.)

Indian forces marched into the princely state at 4 a.m. Monday from four directions under orders to garrison Hyderabad until its future status and relationship to the Hindu Dominion of India is settled. The population of the state, ruled by the Moslem Nizam, is 80 per cent Hindu.

One Indian column, in the Nalgur area in the west, had the heaviest casualties reported—100 dead and 150 captured. Their opponents, the communique said, lost 50 killed.

Refinery Strikers In 2-Hour Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Hundreds of C.I.O. oil refinery strikers fought a rock and tear gas battle with police for two hours today in an unsuccessful effort to keep non-striking A.F.L. maintenance men out of a plant.

A policeman, a state highway patrolman and four strikers were hurt, but none was believed in serious condition.

Cameras of three news photographers were seized and the film exposed. Several photographers were roughed up.

It was the first mass violence of California's 11-day-old strike over wages, a strike which has curtailed gasoline supplies up and down the west coast.

Police reported that all 1,400 of the workers got into the plant.

Striking Longshoremen To Ignore Army Call To Docks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—C.I.O. longshore headquarters announced today union stevedores will ignore a call by the United States Army for dock workers to handle military cargoes in contract-struck ports on the United States Pacific Coast.

The army called for qualified dock workers on a "first-come first-hired" basis for 8 a.m. today in San Francisco and said similar calls were being made in other

Alert Parachute Rescuers For North Manitoba Plane

WINNIPEG (CP)—Parachute rescue squads stood by today while the air force intensified its search in northern Manitoba for a United States navy aircraft missing since Sunday with five men aboard.

R.C.A.F. headquarters in Winnipeg announced tersely in mid-morning that there was "nothing new to report" in the hunt for the missing plane. Headquarters said 13 search planes had taken up the task of criss-crossing the bleak district where the navy plane had disappeared.

OFFICIALS MISSING

Among the passengers are two high-ranking naval officers, Capt. Sir R. W. Stirling - Hamilton, senior British naval officer representing the United Kingdom in Canada, and Capt. B. S. Custer, U.S. naval attaché in Ottawa. They had been at Churchill, Man., for the arrival of two Royal Canadian Navy destroyers, the Nootka and Haida, first to enter the Hudson Bay port.

Paratroopers are on the alert at the Rivers, Man., air school. The event they are needed to go into the area when the plane is located.

R.C.A.F. officials described it as the "most intensive" search in northern Manitoba's history. Two U.S. Army paratroop teams—including a doctor—are standing by while a three-man Canadian army team also is ready to swing into action.

Of the search planes, 10 are Canadian and the remaining three are U.S. craft. In addition, four more U.S. planes are due in Winnipeg today. After refuelling, they will push on immediately for the north country to take part in the search.

The missing aircraft left Churchill at 9 a.m. Sunday en route to The Pas, Man. It had sufficient fuel for only four hours, and it was the intention of the pilot to replenish the supply at The Pas.

G.O.P. Makes Clean Sweep Of Maine By Bigger Majorities

PORTLAND, Me. (AP)—The Republicans did it again in Maine—with bigger majorities than usual. Party leaders called their clean sweep of top offices in Monday's early general election a portent of what will come nationally in November.

It was the seventh consecutive time the Republicans had captured all major offices.

The principal victor, Senator-elect Margaret Chase Smith, said her "wonderful" vote—75 per cent and a 97,000 majority of the total tabulated—is "the forerunner of a great Republican national victory."

Republicans also elected Frederick G. Payne, 47, as State Governor; re-elected Republicans Frank Fellows and Robert Hale to Washington and named Charles P. Nelson, mayor of Augusta, to Mrs. Smith's House seat.

Unofficial returns from 543 of 621 precincts gave Mrs. Smith 144,952 votes to 47,266 for Dr. Adrian H. Scott (Dem.). Payne, in the same precincts, had 133,837 votes and his Democratic opponent, Mayor Louis B. Lausier of Biddeford, 56,589.

Right-Wing T.L.C. Section Talked Of As Possibility

OTTAWA (CP)—Possibility that a new right-wing labor body might emerge from the internal battle within the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada was reported today.

This is one of the conflicting reports on what might happen as a result of the behind-the-scenes moves in the fight. The strife follows the suspension last week-end of the congress of Frank H. Hall's 12,000-member Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks.

The Montreal Gazette said today that Hall might try to form a breakaway congress if brotherhood delegates are not seated at the T.L.C. convention in Victoria, scheduled to start Oct. 11.

Hall and his union were suspended for violating the constitution of the T.L.C. in bringing about a merger of the Sea-

Canada Barring Bernonville On Grounds Of T.B.

MONTREAL (CP)—Because Count Jacques Duge de Bernonville is suffering from tuberculosis the Frenchman's being denied permanent residence in Canada, the federal Immigration Department made known today.

This came out in Superior Court which heard Bernonville's application for a writ of habeas corpus in his fight against a federal deportation order issued because he entered Canada nearly two years ago illegally under the name of Benoit.

The information on Bernonville was contained in an Immigration Department brief filed with the court and was based on a board of inquiry which considered the man's case last Jan. 30, and ruled that because of his illness he was not an admissible immigrant.

Hearing of the court's case was postponed to Sept. 29 and he, his wife and two daughters were returned to Immigration Department detention. All face deportation.

Exchange Laws Bar Visitors To Ships

Foreign Exchange Control Board regulations will prevent any visitors going aboard the Canadian - Australasian Line's Aorangi when she returns to Victoria Thursday to begin her southbound voyage to the Antipodes, it was learned today.

These regulations, which have been in effect for some time, apply to all outward-bound vessels, and are designed to prevent additional quantities of money being passed on to departing passengers.

R. J. Burland, district passenger agent for the C.P.R., said today the Aorangi will sail from Vancouver for Victoria at 10 Thursday morning, and will sail from here at 5 the same afternoon.

Tense Situation In Europe Recognized In Government Move

Rink Funds Gone In Month; Mayor Calls Inquiry

Mayor Percy George agreed today the City Council is "sitting on a keg of dynamite" in the construction of the Memorial Arena, and he promised an immediate inquiry into the report that there are insufficient funds to complete the project.

At the same time the City Council must find a way to finish the job and satisfy the citizens their elected representatives are not to blame, he said.

Earlier in the day Mayor George said he hoped funds on hand would be sufficient to take construction far enough to open the rink minus the trimmings and fixtures originally planned.

But after a conference with Ald. Waldo Skillings, arena committee chairman, and J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector in charge of the work, he was not so optimistic.

Ald. Skillings informed him that a preliminary study of arena finances indicates $86,461 left of $730,979 made available for the rink, will be spent by the middle of next month.

Mr. Oosterink said it is impossible to do the work for the amount Charles W. Hamilton, Vancouver consulting engineer, estimated it would take.

TO SEE ENGINEER

It was agreed to call Mr. Hamilton before a meeting of the City Council in committee when every detail of arena finances and the engineer's estimates will be studied.

The committee meeting will take the form of an inquiry and the press will be admitted, Mayor George promised.

He stressed that the public must be kept informed on all phases of the inquiry and a satisfactory answer given to every question.

The Mayor said it appears inexcusable that estimates of financial requirements in the arena construction should fall far below the amount actually required.

"I have had every confidence in Mr. Hamilton for years, but the fact remains that here we are finding ourselves again in this position of not having sufficient funds," he said.

Monthly payroll of approximately 100 workers at the present time on the arena project is about $22,000. And Ald. Skillings told the City Council Monday the workmen are not producing the yardage of concrete which Mr. Hamilton said they would.

BRIGHTON, Sussex, Eng. (Reuter)—Scientists at the University of London are experimenting in the application of solar energy, with "promising results," the Engineering Section of the British Association was told at its meeting here Monday.

LONDON (CP)—The government announced today that army, navy and air force demobilization will be slowed because of the tense international situation.

"We must also accelerate the improvement of the equipment position, especially in the field of air defence, armor and infantry weapons," Herbert Morrison, Deputy Prime Minister, told the special session of Parliament.

Side-tracking for a moment a bill to curb the powers of the House of Lords—announced reason for the two-week special session opened today—Morrison plunged almost immediately into a discussion of national defence.

He appealed to the country to accept his announcement with level-headed thinking instead of in "a panicky spirit."

"We regret," he declared, "that such a statement should have to be made."

NOT YET FREE

Morrison said that because of "present circumstances" men due for early release after a year of national service will be required to serve an additional three months.

This action, he added, would leave the armed services at the end of the year with $3,000 more trained personnel than originally planned.

Morrison said steps already were being taken to double the output of certain fighter planes, and older types of combat aircraft are being reconditioned.

Some of these aircraft will be used to help arm other countries in western Europe, he said.

"In regard to aircraft, we have not only to meet our own needs but those of other countries, including those of the Western Union which are using British types," he said.

Britain, Belgium, France, the Netherlands and Luxembourg are members of the Western European Union.

The King rode to the session in royal splendor to read the Speech from the Throne asking parliament to curtail the powers of the Lords.

Difficulties Not Ended As Hoped

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Britain today extended for three months the term of service of conscripts called up for the armed forces on or before Jan. 1, 1947. The steps were taken because of the international situation, an announcement said.

A government announcement was read to occupation forces in the British zone of Germany. It said:

"It was our anticipation at the end of the war that by this time the postwar international difficulties would perhaps have been resolved. Unfortunately this expectation has not been realized. Our armed forces must be in the best possible form to fulfill the demands made upon them and these demands have materially increased during recent months."

After the meeting the three envoys returned to the British embassy for a joint conference to prepare a report for transmission to their governments.

This was the first four-power meeting in Moscow since Aug. 30, when Walter Bedell Smith, United States Ambassador, French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau and Frank Roberts, special British envoy, saw Molotov and his deputy, Andrei Vishinsky, on the Berlin question.

Back Pay Cheques For Railroadmen

MONTREAL (CP)—Back-pay cheques worth about $176 each before income tax and pension deductions will go out to more than 150,000 Canadian railroad workers within the next fortnight.

The cheques will be made out on the basis of the 17-cent-an-hour wage increase for workers dating back to March 1.

The first Canadian National Railways cheques are due to be mailed Thursday. Canadian Pacific Railway cheques will be mailed Sept. 28.

Harvesting Speeded In Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP)—With continued ideal weather conditions, good progress has been made with harvesting in Saskatchewan and many farmers have completed operations, according to latest reports to the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

Wheat-cutting is approximately 90 per cent completed and 80 per cent of the course grains has been cut. Good progress has been made with threshing with about 70 per cent of wheat and 60 per cent of the coarse grains now threshed. Cutting of flax is well under way with 30 per cent cut and 15 per cent threshed.

War Not Just Round Corner Says U.S. Chief In Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay said today: "I don't think war is just around the corner."

Louis Glaser, veteran U.S. Military Government official, declared Russia and Communism have already lost the political battle for Berlin.

"The Russians and Communism have proved themselves morally, ethically and ideologically bankrupt in Berlin," he said.

"The proof of this lies in recent events. They now have descended to rioting and resorted to force against democratic procedures to seize control which they could never gain otherwise."

Oak Bay Chief Starts Ball Rolling On Fire Prevention

Oak Bay Fire Chief Edward G. Clayards today started the ball rolling in the local fire chief's campaign to stress on residents of the Greater Victoria area to look for and remedy fire hazards in their homes.

During the week of Oct. 3 to 9, the fire department bosses will endeavor to make the public conscious of the danger to lives and property from fire, as this is the seven-day period which has been earmarked throughout Canada as "Fire Prevention Week."

"In 1947 the fire loss in dwellings amounted to $5,600," said Chief Clayards in a message to the residents of Oak Bay, "and that is much higher than the total in previous years."

At the beginning of September

When your BACK ACHES...

Backache is often caused by lazy kidney action. When kidneys get out of order excess acids and poisons remain in the system. Then backache, headache, rheumatic pain, disturbed rest or that "fired out" feeling may soon follow. To help keep your kidneys working properly—use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's Kidney Pills this year, he continues, the fire loss amounted to approximately $4,765, "and if the rate of fire losses for the first two-thirds of the year should continue, the 1947 total will be greatly surpassed—so it is imperative that all people take fire prevention seriously and keep further losses to a minimum."

SMOKERS AT FAULT

Chief Clayards points out that about 40 per cent of all fires in the municipality that cause damage have been the result of carelessness by smokers. Most of them were small and did not require fire department assistance "but each small fire is a potential conflagration."

A notable increase of fires by short circuits in electrical wiring has occurred this year, he said, this primarily due to the overloading of existing wiring.

"Apparently the normal wiring for a one-family dwelling is not heavy enough under circumstances where housing shortage has caused attic and basement space to be converted into apartments which call for use of additional electrical appliances."

The fire chief urges Oak Bay residents to watch this fault particularly.

"The twin objectives of Fire Prevention Week are to rid our homes and community of the hazards which account for the ma-

Record Sum Spent For Movies In 1947

OTTAWA (CP)—Movie-goers shovled a record amount of money into Canadian box offices last year, even though actual attendance dropped off from 1946.

"The movie take reached the all-time high of $62,279,000—not counting amusement taxes—compared with $59,889,000 in 1946, the Bureau of Statistics reported Monday.

The record revenue came from 220,715,000 patrons, a drop from the 227,539,000 who bought tickets in 1946.

In addition to the theatres' take, the Dominion government last year skimmed off $16,375,000 in amusement taxes, compared with $15,055,000 in 1946.

A jority of fires—and to focus attention on the careless habits which take such a high toll of life and property," he said.

Chief Clayards sees fire-prevention as a team job.

"If we all pull together, inspect our premises for fire hazards and correct them, we can make this municipality of ours one of the most fire-safe communities in Canada."

"Take the slogan for the 1948 campaign to heart: 'Help yourself to fire prevention,'" he concluded.

To be distributed throughout the district are pamphlets on how each individual can help in the campaign.

Court Battle Opens On Publisher's Will

WASHINGTON (AP)—A court fight over the $16,500,000 estate of Mrs. Eleanor Medill Patterson began Monday with an allegation that she was not of sound mind when she made her will.

Mrs. Patterson owned, edited and published the Washington Times-Herald. She bequeathed the paper to seven of its veteran executives. Counsel for her only child, Countess Felicia Gzycka of New York, filed the document attacking validity of the will in federal court.

The daughter was willed a $25,000 life annuity, most of Mrs. Patterson's personal effects and considerable real estate, including a Long Island residence.

The countess alleged that the papers offered as Mrs. Patterson's will were obtained from her by fraud, deceit, undue influence, duress and coercion exercised by "some person or persons" unknown to the daughter.

Mrs. Patterson died July 24. Her daughter was born of her first marriage at 19 to Count Joseph Gzycka, a Polish cavalry officer.

The White Cane Club will meet at Prince Robert House Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 to hear an address by A. C. Finley on "Old Quebec, Cradle of Canada."

Bankruptcy Said Threatening World Air Transport System

BRUSSELS (CP)—The world air transport system will be threatened with bankruptcy if governments continue to insist that the international airlines pay increasing shares of airport and ground costs without helping them to raise their revenues, Sir William P. Hildred, director-general of the International Air Transport Association, said here today.

Reporting to the fourth annual general meeting of the world air line organization, Sir William said there has also been a tendency during the last year for governments to reduce payments to airlines for the carriage of mail.

"The inevitable conjunction of these trends—costs up, revenues down—will be to reduce airline operations to an unprofitable and sorry conclusion," he said.

BELGIAN ELECTED

At today's opening session of the five-day meeting, Gilbert Perier, president of the Belgian Sabena Airlines, took office as president of I.A.T.A., succeeding Dr. J. Bento Ribeiro Dantas, president of the Brazilian airline, Servicos Aereos Cruzeiro do Sul.

In his annual report on the state of the world air transport system, Sir William also: Urged carriers to consider second-class international air service at lower rates;

REVENUES GAIN

Predicted that I.A.T.A.'s members would fly 5,000,000,000 miles in 1948 and increase their gross revenues 50 per cent over 1947.

Sir William warned that charter operators, offering a stripped-down service and operating with less regulation pose a "very stiff problem" for the scheduled airlines by cutting rates and drawing off traffic, but added:

"The fact that these operators can find a ready market indicates there is a growing public who wish to travel by air, and I have long felt that I.A.T.A. members might consider, as the ships and railways do, different grades of service, stripped-down austerity services, as well as services offering luxury and comfort."

MOTOR OIL

M. S. Beringer
Vice-President, in charge of manufacturing,
The British American Oil Company Limited

M. S. Beringer, vice-president in charge of manufacturing, is a man who has spent the better part of his life supervising the manufacture of petroleum products. Years spent in Rumania, in most of the United States and in Canada, provide him with a background which is unexcelled in the oil industry in this country.

Mr. Beringer says: "Science knows of no process that can produce a lubricating motor oil of finer quality than Peerless. No matter how much money you spend, it's impossible to buy a finer motor oil."

PEERLESS MOTOR OIL IS BETTER - "it's Alloyed"

QUALITY

PEERLESS QUALITY rates above all others because it is refined from better crudes with the latest scientific knowledge known to the oil industry, and because PEERLESS, and only PEERLESS, IS ALLOYED.

To improve PEERLESS MOTOR OIL and give it the stamina to stand up longer under a wider range of temperatures, an "alloy" is added which forms a protective film around each molecule thus eliminating breakdowns "it's alloyed"

PERFORMANCE

PEERLESS PERFORMANCE improves engine performance. No matter how high the temperature PEERLESS won't "thin out" will provide maximum compression seal at all times, resulting in greater power and greatly improved oil mileage.

ECONOMY

PEERLESS ECONOMY starts with better lubrication follows through by keeping motor costs down and giving your motor longer and longer life. PEERLESS is the all-season, all-temperature, expense reducer because it reduces the cause of many motor failures.

Rail Brotherhood Leader Charges T.U.C. At Fault

WINNIPEG (CP)—Officers of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada are "playing with loaded dice and using unfair tactics" in expelling the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks "for the purpose of keeping me off the floor of the convention," union leader Frank H. Hall said today.

Mr. Hall, vice-president of the B.R.S.C., said he felt it had the support of the more important elements and unions indentified with the T.L.C.

ON OTHER BUSINESS

His visit to Winnipeg had nothing to do with issues raised by his recent action in directing a union merger aimed against the Canadian Seamen's Union, another T.L.C. affiliate, he said at a press conference.

"A number of our delegates will go to the T.L.C.'s annual convention in Victoria in October," Mr. Hall said.

He emphasized he is not a candidate for the office of T.L.C. president. He had no personal axe to grind because of the situation which had arisen because of the merger of the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) with the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union.

The Congress considered the S.I.U. a dual union.

"We take the position that no A.F.L. organization can be a dual union in Canada," he said. The S.I.U. stems from the parent body of my own organization, the American Federation of Labor, as do 40 or 50 others operating in Canada. We can never regard the S.I.U. as being dual.

"In the opinion of my associates and myself, the only issue is one of Communism within the trade union movement in Canada."

SAYS ISSUE EVADED

"Talk of dual unionism is an effort to evade the issue by those afraid to meet it head-on—as it has been met in the British Trades Union Congress, within the A.F.L. and C.I.O. and tackled courageously by the Canadian Congress of Labor."

It had been alleged the merger action was improper because the C.S.U. was engaged in a strike against certain steamship companies, Mr. Hall said.

Royal City Boy Gets Film Test

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Ian Parminster, 14-year-old Yorkshire-born lad, will leave for Hollywood Thursday to take a screen test.

If successful, he will play a major part in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film "The Secret Garden" opposite child-star Margaret O'Brien.

Ian, who came from England nine months ago, was chosen from 125 British Columbia boys by Director F. M. Wilcox, who was looking for a boy with a Yorkshire accent. Mr. Wilcox interviewed the applicants during a recent visit to Victoria and Vancouver.

New Gas Well

EDMONTON (CP)—A highly-productive gas well has been completed by the Pacific Petroleum Company of Vancouver on the Alberta side of the Peace River block, it was learned here today.

The well was drilled 20 miles northeast of Dawson Creek, B.C., while the company was seeking a gas field in British Columbia to supply Vancouver. Tests were reported to have returned a flow of 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Air Route Supported

EDMONTON (CP)—The city council Monday night supported a Chamber of Commerce campaign for mainline, Trans-Canada Air Lines service between Edmonton and Vancouver.

The council passed a resolution calling for direct service between Saskatoon, Edmonton and Vancouver instead of between Saskatoon, Calgary or Lethbridge and Vancouver.

Bengal Ex-Premier Succeeds Jinnah In Acting Capacity

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Kwaja Nazimuddin today was sworn in as acting Governor-General of Pakistan. He succeeds Mahomed Ali Jinnah, founder of the Dominion, who died suddenly last Saturday.

Nazimuddin formerly was Premier of Bengal.

Justice Sir Abdul Rashid administered the oath and a 21-gun salute was fired.

The cabinet announced the appointment today as follows:

"On advice of the Prime Minister of Pakistan, His Majesty The King is pleased to appoint Kwaja Nazimuddin Acting Governor-General of Pakistan in the vacancy caused by the sad demise of Quaid-e-Azam (great leader), Mahomed Ali Jinnah."

Nazimuddin, 54, was educated at Harrow and Cambridge and later became a member of the English bar. He had been a member of the government in his native province of Bengal at various times since 1927.

Three-Year Seizure Of Hiccoughing Ends

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP)—After hiccoughing every five seconds for nearly three years, Doris Ann Daniel is back home—cured in three days.

The mother of the 15-year-old schoolgirl, Mrs. W. H. Daniel, said: "Now we can sleep again, plan again and laugh again."

Doris Ann, who was afflicted with the seizure in October, 1945, finally was sent to Dr. Wilson at the University of Virginia Hospital at Charlottesville. Dr. Wilson, head neurologist, diagnosed the case as one for a psychiatrist, not a surgeon. The treatment was effective in three days.

Speech From Throne In British House 74 Cautious Words

LONDON (CP)—The King drove in royal splendor to Westminster today to read the Speech From the Throne, which asked Parliament, in 74 cautious words, to curtail the ancient powers of the House of Lords.

The terse Throne Speech opened a special 10-day session of parliament and a bitter political battle between the Labor government and the Conservative opposition.

The Throne Speech asked the legislators to "amend the Parliament Act of 1911." The act would be amended to cut in two the two-year period in which the House of Lords can delay legislation.

This is intended to help the government put through one of its most controversial measures—nationalization of the iron and steel industry before the general elections of 1950.

Frightens Children

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Three youngsters got more than they bargained for in the way of scary thrills Monday when they took a ride on one of the rides at the Western Fair here. A guide wire on the whirling airplane ride broke and one of the planes tumbled to the ground. Attendees quickly shut the power off and grabbed other planes with their hands to stop them. The children were badly frightened but unhurt.

GET OUT THE FULL FACTS

VICTORIANS WHO HAVE GIVEN THEIR support to the Memorial Arena, both through personal donation and through passage of a supplementary money by-law to complete the project, are justifiably angry over the news they have just received that funds raised to date are inadequate to finish the job. When they authorized floating of debentures they were informed by presumably competent authorities that the bonds would more than cover requirements.

The citizens are entitled to a full explanation of the circumstances from which the most recent shocking development has arisen. A full investigation should be undertaken without delay. If experts are required to question the specialists who have directed arena work and made the estimates, they should be engaged. The arena project has ceased to be a subject for unhappy jokes. It is a serious matter. Responsibility should be fixed for the mistakes that have been made—and fixed without waste of time. The public wants to know the facts.

JUSTICE BY THE SWORD?

THERE ARE MANY COMPLICATIONS in the present-day problems of India whose origins lie far back in the history of the sub-continent. Consequently it is difficult to prescribe a cure-all for the conflicts that today rend the land into two opposing factions. It is evident, however, that the people who in past years were quick to criticize Britain for using force to settle difficult questions that arose from time to time, have been equally quick, now that they are independent masters of their own fate, to employ force themselves. And while we hesitate to judge the actions of those in much closer touch with conditions than we at this distance may be, it would seem evident that India's use of military power to solve the Hyderabad situation will probably raise even more difficulties than already exist. A hitherto autonomous state has been invaded by the armed forces of a neighbor, the Dominion of India, and even without the chronic antagonism of Moslem Pakistan to add further bad feeling, the act carries within it the seeds of long years of future strife.

The princely state of Hyderabad has a Moslem ruler but a population 80 per cent Hindu. India's proposal for a plebiscite on the people's choice of whether to join that Dominion or remain independent would therefore appear to constitute very little of a political gamble. It was otherwise in Kashmir, where the situation was reversed. There a Hindu ruler declared his state's accession to India, despite the fact that most of his subjects were Moslems. India was inclined to take the prince at his word, rather than refer the matter to a popular, and presumably Moslem, vote.

But we have seen too many cases of allies in Europe being "liberated" by armies that later were loath to leave. And neither Moslem nor Hindu in the great Asiatic peninsula has shown much disposition to be tolerant of minorities. The savagery of the massacres that marked the two Dominions' assumption of independence is still starkly in memory. An armed invasion of Hyderabad under such circumstances is not likely to leave a wound that will heal without scars. It is improbable that this would have happened had Mahatma Gandhi, the man of peace, still been alive. What pain it would give him to know that one of the first acts of the state to whose independence he devoted his life has been to take up the sword against a neighbor.

DOWN MINNEDOSA WAY!

IN THE LIGHT OF COALITION GOVERNMENT experience in British Columbia—the principles of which have been reaffirmed by leaders of both provincial Liberal and provincial Progressive Conservative Parties in recent times—reports of dissension in Progressive Conservative ranks in Manitoba have aroused general interest. Trouble has arisen in the prairie province over the allegation by the Progressive Conservatives that they have been "double-crossed" through the action of Liberals who nominated a candidate from their party for the traditionally Conservative riding of Minnedosa.

The direct issue, of course, is not paralleled in British Columbia. The partners to Coalition here have agreed to joint nominating conventions in Rossland-Trail and South Okanagan. But at those conventions the arrangement is that a Liberal will be named to carry the standard in the former, a seat held until his death by a member of that party, and a Conservative will be chosen in South Okanagan to contest the seat vacated by Mr. W. A. C. Bennett—who resigned to bid for federal honors and failed to get elected to the House of Commons.

Following a week-end conference in Winnipeg, the president of the Manitoba Progressive Conservative Association, Mr. R. D. Guy, issued this statement: "The meeting was agreed that the autonomy of each constituency is supreme in the management of its own affairs." That is interpreted in some quarters to mean that the nomination of a Liberal in Minnedosa releases the Progressive Conservative Party Association of that riding from its commitment to the gentlemen's agreement under which joint conventions selected candidates on the basis of party representation prior to the arrangement made in 1940. How that idea may be expanded remains to be seen.

It is, of course, for the respective party members in Manitoba to work out their own solutions to the problem which has arisen there. Nor should it be assumed that conditions in that province are identical to those which prevail here. It may be significant, however, to note that the official Manitoba opposition in December, 1947, included 10 C.C.F. members, whereas it had contained but five two years earlier. And in the 1945 general election, Minnedosa elected a Progressive Conservative by a vote of 2,639 over his C.C.F. opponent's 1,430.

The alternative vote system operating in the prairie province may afford a measure of stability should Liberal-Conservative rivalry be resurrected there. No such safeguard, however, exists in British Columbia. When a vote is split here, it remains split, and the chances of a third party candidate espousing state control are increased accordingly. The forthright statements of leaders of the coalition arrangement in this province show a clear recognition of that point. Hence the disaffection manifest in Manitoba need have no particular significance west of the Rockies. The development will, nevertheless, be watched with interest. But more than superficial impressions must be formed on it before any important conclusion can be drawn.

FAIR ENOUGH

BY ITS ACTION YESTERDAY, THE CITY has officially waived certain conditions in relation to the sale of the Willows exhibition grounds carried over from the deal by which Victoria disposed of those holdings to private interests. In effect, the council has told Oak Bay that it will not stand in the municipality's way if the latter wishes to acquire the property. While this may remove some of the provisions aimed at furnishing facilities for certain recreational activity, the action taken by Victoria appears thoroughly sound. Whether or not it could have enforced specific rights, the city is wise in foregoing such action.

For many years Victoria encountered difficulties in respect to the exhibition grounds. They were located in Oak Bay and Oak Bay did not want them. It might have been possible to embarrass the municipality in the deal now pending for the purchase of the property. Such action, however, would have drawn charges that Victoria was playing dog in the manger. For the purposes of example, if for nothing else, Victoria could not have adopted that attitude. The city is well out of the fair business as far as the Willows is concerned. It has benefited financially and has increased its serenity since it disposed of the buildings and acreage.

This does not suggest, of course, that Victoria is or should be disinterested in exhibitions. Their value to a community is well known. On the other hand, the experience at the Willows should convince the city of the dangers inherent in becoming patron and milch cow to an institution operating in an outside municipality. Before it assumes any such obligations, it should reflect on the history of its associations with Oak Bay on the matter. Certainly it should give assistance to any move to establish or revive the fair. But any action it takes should be of a nature to distribute financial responsibility for such an undertaking on an equitable basis with those municipalities and institutions which benefit from an exhibition.

WHY PERMIT A SECOND CHANCE?

FIRST REPORTS ON THE OPENING OF British Columbia's hunting season last Saturday listed three human casualties. Two were hospitalized with gunshot wounds from weapons handled by others. One received treatment for a thumb injury presumably caused by his own gun. Indications were that none had been mortally hurt. But, lacking detailed explanations, all accidents appeared to be the result of some type of carelessness.

Every year hundreds of young men go into the woods for game. Some of them are experienced. Many of them are "green." It is a lucky year when all who go hunting return alive. Each season is marred by disaster of some kind. It is not our purpose at this time to discuss the merits or demerits of hunting. Cases can be made for both sides. But no case can be made for the individual who carries a loaded gun with the intention of shooting deer or birds and uses it to wound a human. No man looks enough like a deer or grouse to be mistaken for legitimate quarry. And when any hunter, veteran or otherwise lets fly at a movement in the bush or so discharges his gun that others in the locality are injured, his hunting days should be over—as should be those of the person who foolishly walks into the line of fire.

Happily the first three woundings this year were not critical. On other occasions, however, the aim, or lack of aim, of the persons who discharged the guns might be more lethal. No second chance should be allowed in this game which so frequently involves human lives.

Eyes On U.M.W.

By PETER EDSON from Washington
SOME TIME THIS month, $100-a-month pension cheques will start going out to retired soft coal miners who are members of John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers who are 62 years of age or older, and who have had 20 years of service in the coal mines. Some retired miners who are 64 or over may be eligible to receive additional payments of up to $2,500 apiece, for the pension payments are to be made retroactive to May 29, 1946.

WHATEVER THE AMOUNT of the initial pension, these payments will mark the start of the second phase of a major industrial welfare plan. The miners are now receiving certain emergency distress benefits. Survivors of miners who die receive $1,000 death benefits. Still to be put in operation is a plan for complete medical and hospital care. It is hoped to set this up before the end of the year.

All this welfare is to be paid for out of a trust fund raised by royalties of 20 cents a ton paid by the coal operator—and eventually by the consumer—on every ton of coal mined. On the basis of 500,000,000 tons annual production, this would be $100,000,000 a year.

THE MINERS' WELFARE plan is being closely watched in other industries, as a possible pattern of expanding social security coverage through private business instead of through the government. Only four unions have now gained similar employer-paid welfare plans—the musicians, clothing workers, garment workers and the United auto workers employed by Kaiser-Frazer.

Application forms and regulations for U.M.W. pensions were sent out to local unions last month, so it is now possible to give some idea of how this phase of the great experiment will work. Only U.M.W. members are eligible to receive payments. Non-union men won't benefit. For the present, only bituminous miners are covered, as the anthracite industry pension plan has not been completed.

IN COMPUTING WHAT constitutes 20 years of service to qualify a miner for his pension, there is considerable leeway. The average miner works only 200 days a year because of mine shut-downs, seasonal layoffs, injuries and similar unemployment factors.

New regulations covering operation of the pension fund therefore provide that a year's service may be computed in any one of four ways: 1.—At least two quarters (six months) employment by a coal operator in any calendar year, with earnings of at least $50 in each quarter. 2.—Two quarters employment by the U.M.W., which recruits many of its organizers and other help from local unions. 3.—Two quarters in the armed services. 4.—Two quarters in which the miner was listed as an employee of a coal operator, but during which the employee was unable to work because of injury.

IN SHORT, A MINER may have worked as little as six months in each year for 20 years, and still qualify for a pension.

Retired miners receiving pensions may take employment in industries other than coal mining without forfeiting pensions. A retired miner may go back to work in the coal industry temporarily, but if he does he will lose his pension for every month in which he does any work.

Retired miners aged 65 or over will of course be eligible to receive Social Security old age insurance from the government, in addition to their U.M.W. pensions. Social Security insurance now pays from $30 a month up to $50 a month for a retired worker whose wife is living. So a married miner of over 65 may get up to $150 a month.

HOW MANY MINERS will apply for pensions is unknown. Miners are now paid from $75 to $80 a week. It is expected that many older miners will prefer to work for this higher income than to retire on what amounts to one-third full pay.

Inauguration of the Lewis pension plan marks the end of a three-year fight. Lewis first proposed the welfare fund in 1945, and it was written into a contract signed with the government. Royalty payments began at the rate of five cents a ton.

The 1946 fund amounted to $26,000,000. It has all been spent on disaster and distress cases. For 1947 the royalty was raised to 10 cents a ton and paid in $50,000,000.

THE 1947 FUND WAS tied up by an injunction suit filed by the mine operators. But approval of the fund trustees' plan by Justice T. Alan Goldsborough enables its being put in effect now.

ON NATIONALISM

Reading a review recently of Vincent Massey's book "On Being a Canadian," I was reminded of propaganda (which has been spread everywhere for years) by the critic's contention, that it was wrong to encourage nationalism, as this book does.

If one talks further with people who denounce nationalism of the kind advocated by Vincent Massey they always reveal sooner or later their fanatical allegiance to the Soviet Union which is, in reality, a slavish devotion and obedience to the Kremlin gangsters. They are in fact, fanatical nationalists.

I do not believe in a "primitive mother" outlook devoted only to her own and antagonistic to all besides, but I think the "universal mother" outlook is the right one; i.e., putting one's own first, but being equally ready to help all in need and ready to co-operate for the common good of all from local matters to world matters. That is what Canada, as senior member of the British Commonwealth and as herself—thanks to wise and great leadership—stands for today. Thank God that is so.

WHAT KIND OF ADVICE?

A columnist (Times, Sept. 4) advising parents as to child music study, says that "technical facility is not the first consideration, that practise time-tables should not be adhered to, and that when practising, a child's attention, when it has begun to wander, should not be recalled."

Whereas, without technical facility as its groundwork, absolutely no further progress can be made in music-playing—and how much progress, for instance, would schoolteachers achieve, if they were advised not to recall their scholars' wandering attention?

Says she, "above all, don't let your talented child become an exhibitionist!" This same article also says glamorous dancing "returns the most obvious rewards for the least outlay."

Well, what is "glamorous" dancing, but exhibitionism?

It's good and encouraging for little kids to be allowed to display their progress in music study, but according to this article, even talented ones must not be allowed to display their prowess.

Music-study is intellectual, hence its discouragement. Is this why Musical Festivals in Victoria were postponed until next February consideration of international law, was very depressing.

The two resolutions of the U.N. General Assembly, "Measures to be taken against propaganda and the inciters of a new war," and "False or distorted reports," if debated now might well bring about the creation of an International Court of Human Rights and halt the drift towards World War III.

As gory gossip is now being resumed with added vigor February, 1949, may be too late to consider international laws to curb this menace.

Secret Experiments 'Down Under'

A PARTY of pressmen has visited the rocket range in South Australia and had a very pleasant trip.

But, wrote the Melbourne Herald's man, C. C. Eager, beyond the official statement that "experiment" has already been made on the range, not the slightest word of information about what has actually been done is available.

NO INDICATION

Anyone's guess is as good as the next, whether a "bird" has actually flown. And there is no indication of what sort of a "bird" it was if it did fly. Except possibly a deduction that, since all the observation posts with their complex machinery have not been set out along the length of the range, the bird was not a long-range one—if it were a bird at all.

The Germans were planning to fire their V-2s across the Atlantic into the United States, and the calculations for this were on paper when the war ended. But their V-2s were forced into the air by rockets, and then they carried on without control like tremendous shells. The Australian experiments are ostensibly with guided missiles; that is, super-fast missiles whose course can be changed in flight to pin-point targets.

Whether the "experiment" had something to do with a new form of control for a known missile, one would not know.

The insistence with which the senior men on the range use that word "bird" is aimed, perhaps, to stress the scope of research they eventually hope to make there. A rocket, they say, is a missile which carries its own oxygen to burn with its fuel. But jet motors, for instance, rely on oxygen from the air. So the scientists use the generic term "bird."

The first section of the range has been proclaimed a prohibited area. It is about 30 by 40 miles. It will later fan out to 45 miles down the centre, opening out towards the Indian Ocean.

Into this country, trucks guided by planes will work to pick up and bring back the "birds" when they have flown.

LIVING QUARTERS

Twelve hundred men, including about 800 civilians, are now there. They live in tents. Some tents are inside fly-wired hutsches with iron roofs. Work has recently begun on quarters for "junior ranks," where men from all the Services will live with civilian workmen in temporary wooden quarters, each with its own room and small veranda. Work on married quarters will soon begin.

Eventually a little village will be built. It will have a school, baby-health centre, swimming pool, golf course, shops and hotel and a picture theatre.

Four miles away will be the technical establishment, the main job of which will be to store and service the "birds." Only small modifications in design will be made there at the rangehead. More important ones may be made at the Salisbury factory, which the organization has taken over near Adelaide, and the main ones will be made in England before the missiles are sent out for testing. All that fundamental work will be done in Britain.

The Australian range—1,200 miles from Woomera to the Indian Ocean—was chosen because it offered the only stretch of uninhabited—or nearly uninhabited—land of that size in the British Commonwealth.

Land was wanted and not sea, so the missiles could be picked up after their flight. Canada could have provided a range, but the missiles would have fallen in snow and that would have made recovery very hard.

VISIBILITY GOOD

Another good feature about the Australian range is that visibility is good along its length, except for a ground haze in summer.

And the fairly level ground will make it simple to set up all the complicated observation posts and their instruments.

The great Indian sub-continent, struggling with the dangerous vicissitudes of its new-found independence, has been visited with two further fateful developments:

1. Mahomed Ali Jinnah, Governor-General of the Dominion of Pakistan, has died, thus depriving this Moslem dominion of the man who created it and was its moving spirit.

2. The Dominion of India, chiefly Hindu in complexion, has invaded the premier princely state of Hyderabad. The declared purpose of this move against the domain of the Nizam, most powerful of all the Indian rulers, is to maintain order. The Nizam is a Moslem while some four-fifths of his subjects are Hindus.

At first glance these two events might seem to have small relation to each other, and it may indeed be that their paths will not cross. Still, there are elements in them which could combine for either good or evil.

Take Jinnah: this brilliant, 71-year-old leader was law unto the some 100,000,000 Moslems of the Indian Peninsula. There was a time in his younger days when he urged unity between Moslems and Hindus, but in his later years he came out for Pakistan, that is, an absolutely independent government for the Moslems. He was fiercely opposed to Mohandas Gandhi, who was the dominant figure in the Hindu world until his assassination early this year.

MAY EASE SITUATION

Now with Jinnah gone, there naturally is speculation whether this may ease the situation between the two hostile dominions—may even result in union between the two in a federal government.

Another angle revolves about the violent and often bloody differences between the Moslems and the Hindus, growing out of religious bitterness. This has cropped up in connection with the invasion of Hyderabad. Masses of demonstrators yesterday marched to the Pakistan prime minister's residence in Karachi and demanded that Pakistan declare war on the Dominion of India because of the Hyderabad affair.

However, there obviously is no real basis for war between Pakistan and India, since Hyderabad lies wholly within India and 80 per cent of its people are Hindus.

FIGHTING MAY SPREAD

Were Jinnah still at the helm, it's safe to say there would be no war over this issue. Still, religious strife could grow out of it and communal fighting might spread throughout the dominions.

In the same category is the question of whether Jinnah's death may ease the relations between Pakistan and India. In any event, I venture this:

Some day—maybe soon and maybe far away—Pakistan and India will unite under a federal government, because they are interdependent economically and because it is horse sense.

The labor movement depends on two things, a free society and the general support of the public. It cannot function in a society controlled by an unrestricted state and even in a free society it cannot succeed if its aims and practices are not approved by a majority of the people.

BLUFFING?

Montreal Daily Star
The Russian policy has been pretty clear. They have proposed by pressure to get every possible advantage for themselves. What is not clear is whether, in the event of a showdown, they would fight. Our bet is that they would not.

SIMPLE LESSON

Winnipeg Free Press
In Britain a socialist government has discovered and declares frankly that prices cannot be held down, unless wages are held down. This is a fact not beyond the grasp of a 10-year-old boy. Yet it is denied by the C.C.F. of Canada. The C.C.F. promised at its recent Winnipeg convention to freeze prices and raise wages. No British socialist was quite silly enough to say anything like that at the T.U.C. conference. The gap in socialist thought between Winnipeg and Margate is too wide to escape the observation of the Canadian people.

Metchosin Fair Largest Ever Held

Little Wendy Ramsfield thinks these giant sunflowers resemble the plant named in the nursery rhyme, "Jack and the Beanstalk." The flowers were grown at Metchosin.

The friendly-looking goat proved a major attraction for Denis Marrion, who could not resist petting the animal. The goat, entered by J. S. Poast, won a first prize.

Top-notch agricultural experts were surprised at the large variety of vegetables and flowers on exhibition at the Metchosin Farmers' Institute Fall Fair which opened in Luxton Hall Monday. The fair was the largest ever held in the district.

G. F. Jeffery, of the Dominion Experimental Farm, Saanich, one of the judges, found it hard to pick the winning entries among the 725 exhibits on display in the large community hall. He praised the quality of vegetables, especially the potatoes and beets.

Rainy weather in the past month which hampered the ripening of some vegetables did not prevent some exhibitors from entering some exceptionally fine-looking tomatoes. There was also some good-size cucumbers, large pumpkins, vegetable marrows and juicy apples.

Of special interest was the Rotary Club Garden contest, opened to schoolchildren. The children's exhibition—the largest ever held in a country fair around Victoria since the end of the war, featured entries from 34 children representing 11 schools.

The boys concentrated on fresh vegetables grown in their home gardens. The girls had a large variety of canned vegetables on display. Some Metchosin boys and girls also had poultry and livestock entries.

CHILDREN ENCOURAGED

Commenting on the children's exhibit, E. W. White, a judge from the Provincial Department of Agriculture, said it was one of the best contests he had ever seen in years. He added the exhibition showed that parents were encouraging their children to take an interest in home gardening.

In the home-cooking section, Miss Geraldine Mann and Miss Antisell Leask of the B.C. Electric Home Service, judged and tasted some of the finest cooking in the district. The entries included jams, cookies, cakes and bread.

Hundreds of residents, farmers and schoolchildren were present to hear Maj. L. H. Johnson, superintendent of the British Columbia Farmers' Institute open the Fair. Also present was J. B. Munroe, deputy minister of the Department of Agriculture.

After five re-counts in one of the closest contests ever seen in Metchosin, judges awarded the grand aggregate prize to the Fernie Farm. The prize was silverware, donated by Birks and Sons. Runner-up was Mrs. P. Colclouth, who received a silver tray from Robert Simpson Ltd.

In the livestock section, D. Richards won the prize for the best family cow. His son, Ernest, also took top honors for the best heifer.

A. McIntyre, who has been promoting sheep raising in the district, took several prizes in the sheep class.

For the first time goats were entered in the Metchosin Fair. J. S. Poast took first prize in this class. The animals proved quite an attraction, especially with children.

There were 170 entries in the home-cooking class, a record number of exhibits. Two young girls, Eileen Turner of Langford, and Ruth Mills, beat the grown-ups in making the best chocolate and ice-cakes.

MALE COOK WINS

The big surprise came, however, when a man walked off with the prize for the best cookies, much to the astonishment of the women. He was E. D. West, secretary of the Metchosin Farmers' Institute.

A loaf of white bread made by Mrs. J. Wood and some buns cooked by Mrs. A. Ramsfield were highly commended by the two B.C. Electric Home Service judges. They were both awarded prizes.

One of the happiest exhibitors in the junior class was Terry White of Happy Valley, who won first prize in the goat class. Victor Woods won a prize for the children's pony.

In the junior poultry class, Merritt Staton won a special prize donated by J. L. Lang. Eight-year-old Sandy Miller also took a prize for the best cookies. The prize was donated by H. Roth garth.

The Metchosin Women's Institute also had a fine display of needlecraft and hooked rugs, which won the praise of Mrs. K. Mather, of Victoria, one of the judges.

F. J. Willway, entry secretary and manager of the Fair, at the end of the day, said it was one of the most successful fairs ever held in Metchosin. "Prizes were equally distributed," he said. "Competition was keen and entries good."

Up-Island Newlyweds Receive Cablegrams From Old Country

At an early evening ceremony Sept. 4, at First United Church, Port Alberni, B.C., Rev. E. F. Church united in marriage Betty Eileen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Milan, and Andrew Fitzpatrick Motherwell, second son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Motherwell, Cobble Hill, B.C. Gladiali and white purple heather, sent from Glasgow and Duncan, Scotland, formed the setting for the double ring ceremony.

A reception was held at Somass Hotel, where Mrs. Motherwell and Mrs. Milan received guests with the newlyweds. A crocheted cloth covered the bride's table, centred with a three-tier cake, decorated with lovebirds, and a sprig of heather from Glen Mason, Scotland. Congratulatory cablegrams were received from relatives in Workington, Eng., Edinburgh and Campbelltown, Scotland, and many telegrams from friends in Victoria, Ontario and Alberta.

G. Broughtron expressed best wishes of Elks Lodge to the bride, a former May Queen, and colored moving pictures of her coronation in 1939 were shown. Escorted by her father, the bride was gown in ivory satin the full skirt sweeping into a graceful train. Satin flowers applied in pendant design distinguished the oval neckline and were repeated on the fitted bodice. Her full-length embroidered veil was held by an orange blossom coronet, and she carried pink roses, gardenias and heather in her bouquet.

Bouquets of roses and gladioli were carried by honor maid, Miss Joan Constable, who wore soft pink sheer, and Miss Rosalie Triggs, bridesmaid, gowned in nylon marquisette.

Ushers were Gavin Motherwell and William Motherwell, brothers of the groom, while another brother, John Motherwell, acted as best man.

Toasts were given by Mr. McKenzie, Port Alberni, and F. Sedgwick, Mill Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Motherwell left on a honeymoon trip to California, the bride wearing a burgundy gabardine suit, matching hat, topcoat of grey and corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Twilight Wedding For Lavonne Purves

Peach gladioli and ferns decorated First United Church Saturday for the marriage of Lavonne Blanche, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Purves, 409 Dunedin Street, to Alexander Robert, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Craigmyre, 3007 Fifth Street. Rev. Hugh A. McLeod performed the twilight ceremony.

"O Perfect Love", was sung by the congregation, and during the signing of the register, Miss Grace Adams sang "Through the Years", accompanied by R. H. C. Palmer at the organ.

A circlet of orange blossoms held the bride's veil of filmy net which misted train-length over her satin gown. The net yoke was enriched with seed pearls, the long sleeves pointed over the wrists, and a full skirt swept into a train, from the fitted bodice. She carried a shower bouquet of Rapture roses and swainsons.

Miss Jean Purves, bridesmaid for her sister, wore a gown of shell pink crepe, caught at the shoulders with silver clips to match her necklace. A circlet of tiny pink roses crowned her chapel veil, and she carried mauve asters, roses and swainsons.

The groom was attended by Robert Corey, George Humeston and Hugh McMillan were ushers. A reception was held at the Purves home, where Rev. McLeod gave the bride's toast. Mothers of the couple assisted in receiving guests.

The three-tier cake topped with swainsons and fern, was flanked by pink tapers.

The couple are traveling in United States on their wedding trip, and will return to make their home in Victoria.

The bride, a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital, wore a powder blue suit with matching topcoat, and hat, and corsage bouquet of gardenias and feathered carnations, for her going-away ensemble.

Delegate Chosen—Mrs. J. W. Pilgrim was named delegate to the South Vancouver Island conference in Victoria, Oct. 12-13, at a meeting of Craigflower Women's Institute, held at the home of Mrs. W. P. Rankin, 1440 Craigflower Road. Mrs. M. D. McLeod was named alternate delegate. Mrs. Cowper Newbury presided and letters were read from the Dorstone Institute in Hertfordshire, Eng. Plans were made for a silver tea at the home of Mrs. L. Fieldhouse, 819 Colville Road on Sept. 22 and a card party at Mrs. Rankin's home on Sept. 29. Arrangements were also made for a bazaar in the View Royal hall on Nov. 3.

Actor-Writer And Bride Married In Victoria

At the registry office in the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon, Miss Aileen Seaton and Mr. John Bethune, both of Vancouver, were quietly married. The bride is a well-known actress with CBR in the mainland city. She received a best-actress award in the Dominion Drama Festival in 1947. Her groom also acts in radio dramas, is a writer of some note and is a stage director with the Theatre Under the Stars. Mr. and Mrs. Bethune are honeymooning in Victoria. Exciting Tour Of Europe Completed By Vancouver Girl

A tour of England, France, northern Italy and Switzerland, has just been completed by a young Vancouver woman, Miss Marjorie Hackney.

Miss Hackney spent the week-end in Victoria with her sister, Mrs. David Anstey, 1320 Purcell Place, and left Monday for Nainaimo, where she will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hackney.

The Vancouver miss left by plane more than three months ago, for England, on her first trip abroad. From the Old Country, she crossed to the continent and spent some time in Paris.

"It was amazing to see the vendors openly hawking their blackmarket articles, throughout the day, on the city streets," Miss Hackney exclaimed.

"And it was just as amazing to note the two classes of Parisienne, one exceptionally well-dressed in the newest of new looks, and the other in practically anything that could be found," she continued.

"But common to rich and poor alike," she added with a smile, "were the most fantastic hair styles, and dyed hair."

Food was very expensive and, according to Miss Hackney, one dinner she ordered, consisting of soup, main course, dessert and wine, would cost a Frenchman the equivalent of $8 in Canadian money.

It was national Festival Day when Miss Hackney arrived in Switzerland.

Creating a panorama of color and gay excitement that she will never forget were the Swiss people in their native dress, enacting age-old dances, and giving voice to folk songs, with the traditional Swiss yodel.

To celebrate the occasion, the Swiss folk staged gigantic parades, and fireworks in the evening, Miss Hackney recounted. There was a marked difference between these happy, spontaneous people and the ragged, undernourished folk common to northern Italy, she stated.

She told of streeturchins running beside the motor coach, begging for sweets and cigarettes when she traveled through Dongo, the village where Mussolini was captured and which is similar to many small scattered villages in that area.

"There is food to be had in these towns, but it is exceedingly expensive," she explained. As an example she mentioned stopping at a tea shop where she and her party were served ice cream, and dainty cream cakes.

Miss Hackney returned to England from where she boarded a plane for Canada.

After visiting her parents, she will cross to the mainland, to resume her position on the staff of the record office, Vancouver city police department.

Mrs. W. N. Martin At Lake Cowichan

Mrs. W. N. Martin, Vancouver, president of Provincial Chapter of the I.O.D.E., made her first official visit to Stanley Gordon Chapter, Lake Cowichan, last week-end where she addressed a large gathering.

The Stanley Gordon Chapter regent, Mrs. J. H. Boyd, welcomed Mrs. Martin, also I.O.D.E. members from chapters at Duncan and Chemainus. Corsage bouquets were presented to Mrs. Martin and to Mrs. Richard McBride, regent of Chemainus Chapter.

Prior to the meeting, Mrs. Boyd entertained the provincial president and executive of the local chapter, at a dinner party at her home on North Shore Road.

A social gathering followed the meeting, with a buffet supper served from a table covered with a lace cloth and decorated with bright autumn flowers, the same varieties of flowers used in profusion in the meeting room. Mrs. Stanley Gordon and Mrs. J. F. T. Saywell presided at the urns.

Addressing the gathering on the national meeting of the I.O.D.E., held earlier this year in Halifax, Mrs. Martin gave a comprehensive report of various works of the order. She also suggested that Lake Cowichan district should consider a junior chapter and stated that chapters with a smaller membership often function better than too large a group.

Mental Health, Women's Rights Discussed At Council

"If we do not forward mental health, it may well be that we shall be called upon to spend more and more to keep in comfort in mental institutions the non-co-operators," stated Dr. Sherman when she gave a summary of the International Congress on Mental Health held in London, to members of the Local Council of Women at their Monday meeting at the Y.W.C.A.

Dr. Sherman, president of the Local Council of Women, was the only Canadian from west of Winnipeg and the only medical representative from west of Toronto at the mental health conference.

She defined mental health as health or wholeness of mind possessed by those who are willing and humble co-operators—fellow-workers—lovers of mankind.

Dr. Sherman disagrees with the statement often made in recent years, that the rapid pace of modern life is one of the main causes of mental breakdown.

"This, to my mind, lacks proof," she stated. "The main cause of mental breakdown in this age is to be found in faulty preparation for life, that so many have received."

Continuing, she stated that overwork and loss of loved ones may cause temporary lack of mental balance but such upsets are soon overcome when rest and kindly treatment is provided. Mental disorder, occurring except under these circumstances, is due in almost every case, to a wrong outlook on life—to a self-centred aim, she added.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS
Highlights of the sixth conference of the Open Door International for the Economic Emancipation of the Woman Worker, held in Brussels, were also given by Dr. Sherman, who was appointed as representative of the National Council of Women in the capacity of an observer.

"That women cannot point to as many outstanding, or seemingly outstanding, contributions to human progress as men, is only because women until recently have been trained for an entirely different way of life," she told members.

She stated that no longer can men withhold from women the true and rightful partnership because they have greater physical strength or greater learning, and that as women assume rights, they must assume full responsibilities.

Mrs. A. Carmichael, who attended the 55th annual meeting of the National Council of Women, as provincial president, gave an extensive report. She also stressed the need for younger women both in local and national councils.

A consumers' report was given by Mrs. Bertha Parsons, who was also named convener of a clothing drive to collect clothing for distressed countries.

It was announced that the Local Council would assist in the registration for the traveling T.B. clinic to be held in Victoria at the end of October.

Dr. Sherman also stressed the need to help with the Community Chest campaign, and an appeal has been made for canvassers.

Island Honeymoon, Vancouver Home For Newlyweds

Rev. E. Munn heard the nuptial vows of Elaine Patricia Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Coates, 1602 Bank Street, and Joseph Morgan Deveson, son of F. J. Deveson, 1219 Pembroke Street, Saturday at 8. Gladiali, zinnias and asters decorated St. Barnabas' Church for the occasion.

The newlyweds are traveling up island on their honeymoon and will make their home in Vancouver.

The bride chose as her sole attendant her sister, Miss Doreen Coates, and Jack Thompson served as best man.

Ushers guests to their seats were Norman and Robert Coates, brothers of the bride.

With her afternoon frock of turquoise wool crepe, the bride wore accessories in matching tone and white. Her Colonial bouquet was composed of red roses, white carnations and heather.

American Beauty wool crepe created the frock for the bridesmaid. She wore grey and black accessories and carried a Colonial bouquet of cream carnations, chrysanthemums and heather.

W. Peters gave the toast to the bride at a reception at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Haggarty, 1318 Clover Avenue. Mrs. Coates and Mrs. A. Rowe, sister of the groom, assisted in receiving guests.

White tapers in silver holders and silver vases of sweetpeas created the setting for the three-tier wedding cake.

A three-piece ensemble in cherry wine gabardine, with accessories of black, and corsage bouquet of gardenias was worn by the bride, when the couple left on their wedding trip.

Meteorologists Prefer Blondes

TORONTO (CP)—Meteorologists prefer blondes.

For business reasons only, the weathermen have found blonde hair to be more sensitive—to moisture, that is. And moisture-proof hair is a vital part of the hydrograph, a machine that records atmospheric conditions.

Brunette locks, they have learned, are too greasy, while red hair is without sensitivity.

Once they have clipped the locks of the lady of their choice, a delicate operation takes place. The strands are washed and dried and then straightened by a machine.

In groups of about 20, the strands are sealed when each is of the same length and tension. The finished object resembles a miniature antenna with vertical wires.

Next the sealed strands are lined to an arm operating a pen that records moisture changes on a revolving drum. As the moisture increase or decrease the golden strands expand or contract.

Capitalistic Structure Is Changing, B. K. Sandwell Says

"Philosophizing" is the way B. K. Sandwell, editor-in-chief of Toronto Saturday Night, described his address to the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon on "What Capitalism Must Do To Be Saved."

"Not in terms of next year, the next election or the next war," he explained, "rather in terms of hundreds of years."

He then took his audience back several hundreds years to a point before capitalism became important, when the outstanding element was land coupled with labor.

"The capitalistic system grew as the result of an increase in machinery," he said, "and reached its extreme development in the latter half of the 19th century."

As the surface of the earth became more congested, as there became less opportunity for man to move about from place to place, the position of labor became important and the right to employment a living doctrine, Mr. Sandwell explained.

"Under absolute capitalism, the value of different kinds of labor was determined by free competition—supply and demand," he said, and then added, "one of the great changes of our time is the diminution of this competition."

"No longer is the question of remuneration of labor determined by supply and demand. Indeed, the whole effort of organized labor is to ensure that it shall not be determined in this way."

Looking ahead, Mr. Sandwell saw the older form of "status" returning, "for status is a recognized right of specialized workers, regardless of supply and demand."

This, he said, was not an economic evil, but a natural change in the structure of capitalism.

Mrs. H. L. Smith presided at the meeting and thanked the speaker.

New Members—Mesdames H. McLeod, T. Goverau and M. Scott were welcomed as new members at a meeting of the senior subdivision, Catholic Women's League of Canada, held in the parish hall, View Street, with Mrs. W. Rogers in the chair.

Mrs. S. Urge Women To Take Place As True Canadian Citizens

"We must have more women in public office."

This ringing challenge was presented by Mrs. Margaret Campbell, Vancouver, second vice-president of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women, in her address at the first meeting of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, held Monday evening in the clubrooms.

"If we try to encourage our members to take an active part in being true citizens of Canada," she continued, "we should find women whom we feel could take their place in public life and then give them all our help and encouragement."

"Let us always be sure, however, that the women we encourage with our help and support are just as well qualified as the men they are competing with."

As a project for business and professional women's clubs in British Columbia for the next two years, Mrs. Campbell suggested the goal of "having all members practicing citizens, by keeping well informed on all current problems and always keeping an open mind in listening to all points of view before we make up our minds on any issue; by working for at least one woman in public office wherever there is a business and professional women's club—not counting the women at present in office."

In the absence of Miss Minnie Beveridge, immediate past president of the local club and now provincial president, Mrs. J. Ingram Smith presided at the meeting and on behalf of members presented Mrs. Campbell with a corsage bouquet.

Miss Marjorie Press gave a brief outline of the national convention of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, at Regina in the summer.

Officers for the year, installed by Mrs. Campbell are as follows: Miss Marjorie Press, president; Miss Elizabeth Forbes, first vice-president; Miss Lily

Henderson, treasurer; Miss Jane Hall, recording secretary; Mrs. Marguerite Laughlin, corresponding secretary; Miss Edith Parsell, Mrs. Lily Nichol, Mrs. Agnes Phipps, Mrs. Barbara Woodward and Mrs. Mae McClement, board of directors.

Following the meeting an informal reception was held and refreshments served under direction of Miss Helen Cruickshank, assisted by Misses Ruth Reid, Margaret Bell and Vida Morley, Zelotes Club; Mrs. C. A. Curry, Mrs. Mae McClement and Miss E. Stewart.

Canadians Like Bright Colors In Their Homes

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadians are fond of bright colors in their homes. They're style-conscious about home-decorating. And they don't hesitate to experiment.

This is what E. F. Evans, director and sales manager of a British domestic textiles firm, found in a two-month tour of Canada to sound out market prospects.

Evans thinks summer sunshine and four or five months of winter snow are the reasons for brightness of Canadian living rooms and bedrooms and boldness of design.

He's found similar taste for brightness in homes in Australia and South Africa which also bask under sunny skies for long periods.

As well as in homes, this liking for brightness shows up in clothing—women's dresses in particular, he says.

He sums up the whole of it in what he calls a "new, young approach to things, a willingness to try new things out."

Naturally enough, Evans feels that there's a place in the Canadian market for British domestic textiles produced by firms such as his own.

He feels that British designers are old hands at interior decorating and that their products would go over well here because though styles may change, there's a standard of good taste that applies universally.

STARTLED BY DECORATION

Some of the interior decorating in North America opened Evans' eyes. In a restaurant where he lunched, he was startled by the size of a rose that was part of the decorative pattern on a wall. He left his lunch companion for a moment, went over to one of the roses and measured it for his personal satisfaction.

But British textile designers don't wait to be startled by new styles, he says. They keep up to, or perhaps set trends, with new designs and style changes.

In their business, there are some things that don't change much. Materials for the Royal Navy, for instance, which have been tested by long experience and haven't altered "since the Crimean war," as Evans puts it. Canadian taste seems to be the same from coast to coast though it may be that in British Columbia, "quieter colors" are in favor, says Evans.

University Women Plan Reception

Members of the University Women's Club will hold an informal reception for old and new members, Wednesday at 8 o'clock, in the Liberal clubrooms, 1322A Government Street. Mrs. J. F. K. English will present the fall program and Mrs. B. E. Porritt will take registrations for the study groups at that time. A social hour will follow.

Women To Play Greater Part In Convention

PETERBORO, Ont.—Senator Iva Campbell Fallis, the only woman appointed by a Conservative government to the Senate of Canada, is confident that women will play a greater part in the forthcoming convention of the Progressive Conservative Party of Canada in Ottawa than in any previous convention of the party.

Senator Fallis is slated to address the women's committee meeting being held during the convention, and to take an active part on the floor of the convention itself.

"In so far as I am personally concerned, and I think the same applies to the majority of the women in our party, we are not looking for special favors or privileges for our sex but we simply ask that we shall not be discriminated against because we are women," Senator Fallis says. "All attending the convention—men, women and young people—should be treated alike as Canadian citizens. The women, on their part, should prove themselves worthy of equal recognition by giving the time and energy necessary to become well-informed on matters of public interest."

Search Called Off When Boat Found

The search Sunday night and yesterday for a man and woman missing in a rowboat off Sidney turned out to be a false alarm, Constable Joe Gibault of the B.C. police detachment there reports.

The couple, unidentified, rented a boat Sunday afternoon and when they had not returned with it at nightfall a search was started by B.C. Police. The R.C.A.F. co-operated by sending out a crashboat to scour the area without success.

Last night the boat was found beached by Harvey Lutz near his home. The renters had neglected to return it to the owner.

A similar case of a boat being rented and not returned was reported by Saanich Police. It was an inboard-engined job rented from Hugh Francis, Brentwood, by four boys. It was located at Cordova Bay, 20 miles away.

New Experiment Aids Hawaiian Economy

HONOLULU, Hawaii.—The half million people of Hawaii got their first look at the ownership structure of its corporations today with the release of a year-long study by the Hawaiian Economic Foundation.

The report brought out:

(1) A total of 831 corporations studied were owned by more than 34,000 stockholders, the overwhelming majority of whom live and work in the islands.

(2)—Business in the islands is spread among many concerns, small by mainland standards.
Total assets of 831 corporations studied amounted to $902,974,170, which is less than the total assets of the 12th largest mainland industrial concern—Socony Vacuum Oil Company.

(3) In addition to the corporations studied, the Territorial Tax Office records show there are 33,000 unincorporated businesses in the islands.

(4) There is a wide participation in ownership of businesses of the islands by small stockholders. Sixty per cent held fewer than 100 shares. Eighty per cent had holdings representing a net worth investment of less than $5,000.

(5) Ownership in Hawaiian corporations is spreading. Between 1927 and 1946, the number of stockholders of the 10 largest island corporations increased 150 per cent.

Second Shingle Mill In Vancouver Burns

VANCOUVER (CP)—The
second mysterious shingle mill blaze in less than a week Monday caused damage estimated at $100,000 to the Riverside shingle mill in suburban Burnaby.

Last Saturday an early-morning fire of undetermined origin roared through $75,000 worth of shingles, stored in a warehouse of the Clearwood Shingle Co. here.

Monday's fire destroyed a kiln in which 5,000 bundles were being steam-dried. An engineer had checked temperature and humidity a scant seven minutes before the outbreak.

Considerable new machinery, a loading platform and two carloads of shingles at the water's edge also were consumed. Telephone lines were burned down before the fire department could be summoned.

A company spokesman said the mill, which employs 52 men, will have to be closed down until the kiln is rebuilt. This would take some time, he said, due to the shortage of kiln machinery.

GOES FISHING — "STRIKES OUT"

A PRACTICE in future I'll always condemn, is having breakfast . . . around 4 a.m. And the G.F. thinks "it's heathenish, the things one does to catch a fish."
'And it's YOUR idea,' sed she in slacks, "and in all these sweaters I'm a bundle of sacks." We arrived on the float, (and to commence our log) we "putt-putted" away . . . in a very dense fog.
So that the G.F. started to groan,
"I can't see you . . . I'm here all alone." We set our course across the bay, "there," they sed, "where the B-I-G ones lay." "Stay up in the bow," I hollered out, "for other darn fools, keep a sharp look-out." "Hard-a-starboard," she suddenly screamed, as an anchored boat we side-swiped, and careened. I reached for the throttle, "shorted" her dead,
"Golly, that was close," from the voice ahead. "I think we'll just sit, till this fog does clear, we can monkey around with all this new gear." "Well let's hava coffee," she squeaked up for'wd, it's in the basket there . . . under that board. Gee . . . isn't it eerie, my tummy butterflies, and this mist makes spots . . . before my eyes. "It'll soon clear, . . .
there, look in the sky." I encouragingly sed . . . to pacify.

IT'S NO FISH STORY
we have the B-I-G-
G-E-S-T, roomiest "family affair" in a Chesterfield Set U ever saw . . . only $169 in a warehouse.

AND SO IT CLEARED and the first thing aft, the new line got tangled . . . in the shaft. But I got it unwound and again on our way, the mist was rising across the bay. 2 lines we dragged, way down in the gooey, I a wonder spoon, she a "Lucky Louie." Once
I brot the ship round, on 2 sharp a turn, and fouled BOTH lines under the stern. What a delighful mess, the propeller was in, I nearly froze all my bare skin.
"Let's have our lunch, some Peek-Freans" I've brot, "that I replied, a real happy thot." So I left the repairs, and shelled an egg, and drank some coffee right to it's dreg.

A LOTTA PEOPLE
am't gonna believe this story, but here's the spot to work in a plug, so we better break it up with a yarn about our new coal and wood stoves. A lady bot one Saturday, who didn't quite believe us at first, but as she later said . . . "I ran all the way back here." They are all gleaming white enamel, and only $125 with a coil.
This client was so exhausted we sent her happily home in a taxi.

SUDDENLY the G.F. froze in fright, "LOOKIT!" she screamed,
"there on your right. They're coming our way . . . simply
M-a-m-m-o-n-i-s-h," "they're porpoises," I sed, "or maybe black-fish." "Well, start the engine, DON'T SIT THERE, let's get outa here . . . go ANYWHERE."
"I CAN'T start it," running aft, the lines as U know, all tangled in shaft." She grabbed the oar while I tried again, I tugged with all my might and main. To tell the truth I was in a stew, 'cause
I didn't relish those approaching
2. So I grabbed her oar, got ready to strike, "Oh . . . she frantically," For the Love of Mike,
I shoulda known better, than come fishing with U, our 2 little girls . . . what'll they do???

YOU COULD DO with a new radio maybe this winter?
we have the Spurlon . . . The Chisholm, or The Admiral.

THESE BRUTES surfaced some 10- feet away, still VERY DEFINITELY . . . coming our way. Like Mr. Archie Wilson I held my oar, "Mr. Porpoise," I

'Jack London' Film On Dominion Screen

One of the most authentically exciting films of this or any other season, reaches the screen of the Dominion Theatre today with the opening of "Jack London," Samuel Bronston's initial production for United Artists release.

With Michael O'Shea, young sensational star who scored so roundly in "Lady of Burlesque," cast in the title role, and Susan Hayward, glamorous young red-head appearing as Charmin London, the author's wife, "Jack London," emerges as an action-packed picture.

Now, the Plaza Theatre takes pride in announcing that the great technicolor picture, "The Adventures of Robin Hood," has been booked again, and is now being shown, Errol Flynn and Olivia DeHavilland head a brilliant cast, assisted by thousands of extras in this film, which is considered a masterpiece to come out of Hollywood.

ATLAS THEATRE

Coleen Gray, the sensational new Twentieth Century-Fox discovery, who was Victor Matur's girl in "Kiss of Death," and is currently co-starring with him in "Fury at Furnace Creek," now at the Atlas Theatre, brings her good luck piece, her year-and-a-half-old baby, on the set when she begins a picture. "I never got a role until Susan came along," she says, "and then right away I went into 'Kiss of Death' and 'Nightmare Alley,' and now 'Fury at Furnace Creek.' She's my good luck piece."

ROYAL THEATRE

After an absence of more than four years, Jean Arthur returns to films in Paramount's gay and witty comedy, "A Foreign Affair," which co-stars the talented comedienne with Marlene Dietrich and John Luna, and which is now at the Royal Theatre.

Miss Arthur, last seen in "The Impatient Years," was enticed back to picture work by producer Charles Brackett and director Billy Wilder who had her in mind when they wrote the screen play for their new comedy, "A Foreign Affair."

YORK THEATRE

Little Connie Marshall's mother, Mrs. Catherine Marshall, thinks the odds against children getting a break in motion pictures are so great that it doesn't even warrant the time and effort most parents put into it. Now nine years old, Connie is playing one of the leading roles with John Payne and June Haver in Twentieth Century-Fox's Technicolor romance, "Wake Up and Dream," which is at the York Theatre.

RIO THEATRE

One of the most sensational films ever to reach the screen, Warner Bros. "Mein Kampf?" is being shown at the Rio Theatre on Friday. Here is a featurette, 20 minutes in length, which is a forceful indictment of German savagery with an eloquent reminder that the doctrine of world conquest is destined to assert itself unless there is an alert and watchful world.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Murder at a drinking party gives the police a tough problem in RKO Radio's brilliant new drama, "Crossfire," a sensational expose of the deadly effect of uncorrected intolerance. Robert Young, Robert Mitchum and Robert Ryan are starred in this production by Adrian Scott, which was directed by Edward Dmytryk, and is now being shown at the Oak Bay Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Gorgeous Janet Blair, who recently completed a starring role opposite Louis Hayward in "The Black Arrow," a costume drama, undergoes a quick change for her latest picture, "The Fuller Brush Man." The movie, a Columbia comedy now the attraction at the Capitol Theatre, has Janet in the very modern role of a secretary. Red Skelton is also starred.

ODEON THEATRE

Academy Award winners were a "dime a dozen" on the set of Samuel Goldwyn's new production, "The Best Years of Our Lives," now being shown at the Odeon Theatre. They included stars Fredric March and Teresa Wright, Director William Wyler, Cameraman Gregg Toland, special Effects Man John Fulton and Film Editor Daniel Mandell.

Monday, Oct. 11, already a federal holiday, has been proclaimed a holiday by the provincial government under the Factories Act.

City Shocked By Announcement More Money Needed For Arena

Ald. Waldo Skillings' announcement late Monday to City Council that $325,000 being raised through sale of debentures will not complete construction of the Memorial Arena came like a bolt out of the blue.

Mayor Percy George and other aldermen listened in stony silence as the junior member of the council, chairman of the arena committee, made the startling report.

Ald. Skillings told a reporter later he would not care to make an estimate of how much money will be required to complete the rink.

"That's too tough a question," he said. "The engineers and so-called experts are supposed to be able to answer that one."

He said the city has been given "bum steers" all the way down the line in the building of the arena, but he attached no blame to J. W. Oosterink, building inspector, or Cyril Jones, acting city engineer, in the set-back.

HAMILTON CRITICIZED

It was C. W. Hamilton, Vancouver consulting engineer in the project who came in for most of the criticism. Ald. Skillings was scathing in his comments on certain advice received from the Vancouver engineer.

He told the Council he had a signed statement from Mr. Hamilton saying the arena could be completed for $317,000. That was given, he said, prior to the floating of the $325,000 loan.

"In fact we had $20,000 more than Hamilton's estimate of what we needed," Ald. Skillings added. "We saved $12,000 from one contract, and asked for $8,000 more than the $317,000 estimate."

But despite the apparent surplus, only $86,641 of a total of $730,979 collected and borrowed for arena construction, is left in the treasury.

Ald. M. Aubrey Kent, a member of the arena committee, said he has lost faith in builders and engineers. Mr. Hamilton was given three weeks in which to work out the financial needs for the arena before the $325,000 bond issue was floated. The committee was given assurance all around that the $325,000 would be sufficient.

Ald. Harold M. Diggon commented: "It's the same old story. You can't break the taxpayer's back but you can break his heart."

Mayor Percy George's comment that the construction dollar apparently is worth only 30 cents these days brought silence to the Council chamber.

BEHIND SCHEDULE

Finally Ald. Skillings got to his feet again to give a detailed report on arena expenditures and to tell the council that work on the project is running far behind schedule.

He said Mr. Hamilton had estimated construction of walls and seating could be completed for $190,000, but so far this year over $200,000 has been spent and there is much work to be done yet.

The reason work is behind schedule, he said, is because estimates of the amount of yardage of concrete which could be produced with the labor available were not correct.

City Approves Bus Fare Boosts $1.35 Pass; Skillings Opposed

Approval of bus fare increases and a $1.35 weekly transportation pass was given by the City Council Monday.

Mayor Percy George and all but one of the aldermen on hand voted support to the Greater Victoria transportation committee's recommendations that the municipalities settle for a new fare structure.

The new structure puts the cost of four bus tickets from 25 cents to 30 cents and single cash fares from seven cents to 10 cents.

SKILLINGS OPPOSED

Ald. Waldo Skillings voted against the council giving approval to the recommendations. Other aldermen present were Duncan D. McTavish, J. D. Hunter, Frank Mulliner, M. Aubrey Kent and Charles Banfield.

Ald. Skillings' objection was mainly over the cost of the weekly pass. He said W. C. Mainwaring, B. C. Electric Railway Company vice-president, had "held an axe" over the heads of the transportation committee members in the question of a weekly pass.

"He told us to accept a $1.35 pass or none at all," Ald. Skillings charged. "I don't call that negotiating. This rate structure is being forced on us."

FEARED "CRUCIFIXION"

He claimed members of the committee had agreed to accept Mr. Mainwaring's offer because they feared "the public will crucify us if there is no pass."

"I take exception to Mr. Mainwaring's remark that his company has no moral obligation to continue issuing a pass," Ald. Skillings added. "The franchise was given the company on the

Vets' Priorities For Wartime Houses To Be Reviewed Soon

Civic officials will confer with officers of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation regarding priorities for veterans in obtaining wartime housing accommodation.

Action was agreed to at Monday's City Council meeting after a letter was read from an out-of-town veteran who moved here after the war.

The veteran said he and his wife and four children were living in a two-roomed shack which has been condemned by health officials. But he could not get a wartime house because he was not originally from Victoria.

Mayor Percy George said this was one of dozens of letters he receives and he felt it was time the priority question be reviewed.

Mayor's Fund Ends With Fine Record; $22,455 Collected

Victoria's Mayor's Fund is being closed after a year and a half of operations in which $22,455 was collected and 3,865 10-pound food parcels purchased for the aged and needy in Great Britain.

City Council on Monday approved Mayor Percy George's recommendation that the fund be disbanded because it would overlap the United Emergency Fund.

In giving approval, aldermen were loud in their praise of the Victoria women who have worked on the fund committee. They have worked long and hard and their accomplishments have been more than worthwhile, aldermen stated.

Mayor George, who organized the fund, came in for a great deal of praise, too.

Tribute Paid Mayor On New Appointment

Mayor Percy George has a record unequalled by any other present of past member of the city council.

This tribute was paid the chief magistrate at Monday's council meeting by Ald. Duncan D. McTavish.

Ald. McTavish was congratulating Mayor George, on behalf of all the aldermen, on his being elected by acclamation president of the B.C. Union of Municipalities for the coming year.

Election took place at the union's convention at Harrison Hot Springs last week.

Ald. McTavish said Mayor George first was a father of the Parent-Teacher movement, then became a school trustee, advancing to alderman, then mayor.

City To Be Bombed

City Council on Monday gave the Kinsmen Club air show committee permission to "bomb" downtown Victoria this Saturday with toy balloons.

The "bombing" will advertise the club's air show at Patricia Bay flying field, and will take place early in the afternoon.

Post No Bills, City Tells Army

The Canadian Army or any other service, organization or individual cannot post bills on light and telephone poles in the city.

The City Council made this clear Monday when a request was received from army authorities for permission to nail placards and arrow direction signs to poles in the downtown area.

The signs were for Army Week and a recruiting campaign at the end of the month.

Ald. J. D. Hunter and Ald. Harold M. Diggon, of the public works committee, pointed out a by-law made this practice taboo.

"There's nothing else to do but turn them down I guess," said Mayor Percy George.

Oak Bay Negotiating To Buy All Of Willows For $120,000

City Solicitor A. J. Patton told the City Council Monday that Oak Bay municipality is negotiating to purchase all of the Willows Exhibition Grounds, not just the race track property, for $120,000.

He got the information from the counsel of S. W. Randall, president of the Colwood Park Association, owner of the Willows, at the request of Mayor Percy George.

Question arose during discussion of a request from Mr. Randall for a "quit claim" on the Willows property. The city has, by an agreement of sale made with Mr. Randall when he bought the exhibition grounds two years ago for $126,000, the right of first refusal in the resale of the property.

Ald. Waldo Skillings asked that the matter be tabled for two weeks to give aldermen an opportunity to study the question further.

MIGHT MAKE PROFIT

Ald. M. Aubrey Kent seconded his request, arguing that the city might be able to make a profit if the property was "brought back into the fold" and then sold again.

It was at this point that Mayor George asked the solicitor to find out for certain if it was a portion or all of the property being sold to Oak Bay.

When it was reported the entire grounds were included in the negotiations, Ald. Kent withdrew his support of Ald. Skillings' stand.

BUILDINGS COME DOWN

Mr. Patton said the race track grandstand and remaining exhibition buildings were not included in the deal. They had to be pulled down by the owner before Oak Bay would take possession, he said.

Original report of the negotiations between Mr. Randall and Oak Bay came from Vancouver where Mr. Randall resides, and stated it was only a portion of the grounds in the transaction.

Meat Supplies Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Although embargoes on some meat shipments to the United States were lifted last month, stocks held by Canadian packers, abattoirs, wholesale butchers and cold storage warehouses on Sept. 1 were higher than on the corresponding date a year ago.

The stocks amounted to 75,381,000 pounds compared with 89,201,000 at Aug. 1 and 62,224,000 pounds at Sept. 1, 1947, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports.

Most of the meat stocks showed an increase over stocks at Sept. 1, 1947. Pork advanced from 34,941,000 to 42,720,000 pounds, beef from 19,303,000 to 22,722,000, veal from 5,685,000 to 7,263,000, and mutton and lamb from 2,296,000 to 2,676,000.

'Bargain Sale' On City Lots Extended

City Council on Monday extended to Dec. 31 the period in which World War II veterans, including present and former members of the Merchant Marine, can purchase city lots at reduced prices.

Originally the period was to have ended Aug. 15, and the extension was given after strong representations were made by the Canadian Legion.

Yugoslavia Pays Up $17,000,000 To U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government of Yugoslavia has paid $17,000,000 to the United States to settle claims, the State Department announced Monday.

The money will be distributed to American companies and individuals claiming compensation for nationalized property in Yugoslavia.

The payment was agreed on in July. In return, the United States agreed to unfreeze Yugoslav assets in the United States, including $47,000,000 in gold.

Finalists In Totem Pole Golf At Jasper

For the second successive year Gordon Verley, Victoria, left, lost the final for the Totem Pole golf trophy at Jasper Park Saturday, being beaten in the 36-hole final by J. Edgar Green, Seattle, right, 2 and 1. Dr. Vernon E. Fowler, Astoria, Ore., who refereed the final, is seen in the centre. It was the first time Green had played in the Jasper tournament.

Lamohr Scores Victory In Ladysmith Handicap

Longshot punters had another good day at the Willows race track Monday when for the second straight day of the 14-day meeting the favorites took a beating and double figures were rung up in all but two races and the people's choice got down in front in only one event.

Lamohr, four-year-old bay filly from the A. W. Foster's All's Well Farm, pulled the most startling upset of the day in the featured Ladysmith Handicap of six furlongs by romping to an easy victory over heavily favored Malinka and Hi Onslaught.

Scotch Lad, the outsider in the betting, closed fast to get place money of $16 while Beach Drive took a photo decision from Malinka for third place.

Lamohr, who ran second opening day, paid $13.80 to win. It was the second winner of the day for All's Well Farm, Ricochet having come down in front by a nose in the second race, nipping Pompin by a whisker. Lightly regarded Anthurium returned $16.30, $4.35 and $2.80 in the first race and combined with Ricochet for a daily double of $30.40.

LADNER LAD SURPRISES

Overlooked in the betting, Ladner Lad with Charlie Athey up, came through in the stretch to catch the tiring leaders and win going away in the six-furlong third race. Ladner Lad returned his backers $21.15, $10.45 and $4.10. Best Dressed, the pacesetter, took second money with the favorite Maid of Broxa never better than her third-place finish.

Apprentice jockey Marvin Moncrief led from wire to wire in the fourth race, another sprint dash of six furlongs, aboard Desert Band for a $7.90 payoff. Athey got his second in the winner's circle in the fifth race when he was up on the 5 to 1 shot Sir Gallator, a disappointment on the mainland but an easy victor yesterday in a wide open race.

Triary Destrer, a Saturday winner, made it close at the finish with Regular Joe third.

But as in the Saturday card it remained for the final race of the program, the mile and 70 yards seventh, to provide the longest payoff when Ken Coppennoll on Sir Galton took a photo decision from Interned. Sir Galton returned $25.40 for a win ticket and with Interned returned a fancy quinella figure of $44.70.

Navy Squad Takes Peden Softball Cup

The Navy senior A softball team last night won the Peden knockout softball cup by defeating Douglas Tire senior B squad, 6 to 5, at Central Park.

The game was called in the last half of the seventh inning with the score tied at 7 to 7. Navy at bat, two men out, and the winning run on second. But the score reverted to the last of the sixth when at that time Navy held its winning margin.

Winners tallied three runs in each of the first and fifth innings.

Spokane Indians Near W.I.L. Pennant

Split With Tacoma As Jackets Lose To Chiefs; Goot Tosses A's To Win

The second-place Bremerton Bluejackets opened another seam in their own Western International League dream boat last night.

Two critical Bluejacket boots in the fourth inning enabled the Wenatchee Chiefs to trim the sailors, 4 to 3, while league-leading Spokane split a pair with the Tacoma Tigers. The combination extended the Indians' margin to a game and a half.

Down in Salem Al Goot went the route for the A's and held the Senators to six blows in a 6 to 3 triumph. The A's only got four blows from Jim Foster but were aided by six Salem errors.

Salem jumped on Goot for all their runs in the first three innings scoring one in the first and two in the third. The A's counted three in the fourth, tying the score on three errors. In the sixth they sewed up the game for Goot—his third win of the season—by tallying an additional three markers on singles by Del Owens, Sal Recca and Babe Jensen with a Salem error thrown in for good measure.

In the pennant scramble Spokane won the first game over Tacoma, 3 to 1, with Ray Fortier the loser and John Orphal the winner.

Fortier also started the second game but was chased in the fourth. Ken Clary and Ray Tran finished up with the Tiger shortstop whipping pinch hitter Frank Nelson for the final out.

In a cosy affair attended by 350 guests at Yakima, the Packers closed the home season with a 9 to 8 decision over Vancouver. The Caps tallied five times in the first and the valiant 350 shuddered but the home club struggled uphill to win.

Giants End Pirates' Seven-Game Streak

The historic Polo Grounds is fast gaining a reputation as the graveyard of National League pennant hopes.

Burt Shotton brought his Brooklyn Dodgers into New York Giants' lair over the week-end for a four-game series and left with only one victory.

The high-flying Pittsburgh Pirates showed up last night boasting a seven-game winning streak and lippy Leo Durocher's fence-busters cooled them off, 5 to 2.

By knocking off the pursuers of the leading Boston Braves, the Giants themselves are sticking in the running for the flag.

Last night's triumph boosted the Giants into a fourth-place tie with the idle St. Louis Cardinals, 5½ games behind the Braves. The Giants and Cards are only .0005 percentage points behind the third-place Dodgers, who also trail the Braves by 5½ games.

Lefty Monte Kennedy, who has lost some tough games for the Giants, stopped the Pirates' surge last night. He scattered nine hits in picking up his third triumph.

Only one game was played in the American League, St. Louis Browns upsetting the third-place Indians 3 to 2 at Cleveland. Pinch-hitter Joe Schultz singled in the ninth with the bases full to enable the Browns to break a 2 to 2 tie and win.

The loss left the Tribe three full games behind the first-place Boston Red Sox.

The Indians also lost the services of pitcher Don Black for the rest of the season. Black is in critical condition in a Cleveland hospital with a hemorrhage near the brain.

Victoria Riflemen Win Butchart Shield Match

Capt. H. L. Collings coached an eight-man team of local riflemen to a hard-fought win over a team from the mainland in the Butchart Shield match shot at Heals Range over the week-end.

The Victoria marksmen finished the 30-yard range with a handy 13-point lead which the Vancouver team reduced to one point by a brilliant comeback at the 500-yard firing round.

Both teams found the shooting difficult at 600 yards where the changing light and boiling mirage coupled with a fustling wind seriously affected the scores.

The Victoria team came through at this range and increased its lead by a further four points to win the shield presented by the late R. P. Butchart with a score of 1,112 points against the 1,107 scored by the mainlanders.

Each member of the winning team and the coach received a sterling silver teaspoon as a memento of the event from Sgt. G. S. Carr, past president of the Victoria and District Rifle Association, when he presented the trophy at a dinner held at the Hotel Douglas.

Stampede Register Fifth Straight Win

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary Stampede today hold a comfortable lead in the Western Interprovincial Football Union Conference and are practically assured of a playoff spot.

Last night, the powerful Stampede registered their fifth straight victory of the season by walloping Winnipeg Blue Bombers, last year Canadian finalists, 18 to 0 before 7,000 rabid home-town fans.

The loss left Bombers in second place with four points from two victories in six stars, while Saskatchewan Roughriders hold the cellar position with a single triumph in five games.

Stampede romped to their second shutout over Bombers this year by scoring converted touchdowns in each of the last three quarters.

After a scoreless first quarter of defensive play, Stampede began to roll in the second session, with quarter Keith Spith leading a devastating aerial attack which had Bombers backing up towards their own goal line. Two successful passes and an end run put the ball on Bombers' 20 from where the veteran Paul Rowe smashed and zigzagged his way over for a touchdown converted by Fred Wilmut.

Winnipeg came back strongly in their only real scoring chance but Don Hiney's attempted field goal was wide and short and Calgary held their 6 to 0 lead until half-time.

STRODE SCORES
Calgary again took to the air in the third quarter with Spith on the tossing end and big Woody Strode, negro import, on the receiving. Strode took the fourth good pass over for a touchdown, again converted by Wilmut.

Youthful Cliff Kliever got Calgary's final touchdown in the last quarter after taking a lateral pass from Spith on Winnipeg's seven-yard line. Butch Thodos converted to end the scoring.

Calgary's passing attack was their most potent weapon. The Stamps completed 10 of the 18 thrown for a gain of 110 yards. Bombers completed three of 15 attempts.

Roy Burton Takes Rookie Boxla Award

VANCOUVER (CP)—Roy Burton, high-scoring freshman centre for North Shore Indians, today was awarded the Ed Bayley memorial trophy as the year's outstanding rookie in the Inter-city Lacrosse League.

Burton piled up an impressive 61 points during the season, almost personally putting the tribe in the loop semifinal.

Several Rookies Seek Positions With Canadiens

MONTREAL (CP)—Promising his squad plenty of hard work and a fight for their jobs, Coach Dick Irvin will lead Montreal Canadiens into St. Hyacinthe, Que., tomorrow to open the 1948-49 hockey training grind.

Irvin reached Montreal yesterday from his home in Regina and immediately set to work to name the players he will take to camp.

They will include two of the brightest rookie prospects, Doug Anderson and Steve Merluk, who played last year with Edmonton Flyers, Allan Cup winners. Anderson is a centre and Merluk a right-handed left winger.

Irvin was lavish in his praise of the youngsters and figured they may catch a regular berth with Canadiens. In addition, Irvin has George Robertson, a centre from Winnipeg who played last season with Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

Two other forwards, Charlie Gagnon of Toronto and Eddie Doronohy of Lethbridge, Alta., will also be with the squad.

BLAKE MANAGES BUFFALO

Except for Toe Blake, all the veterans of last year's team that slipped to a disappointing fifth-place slot in the National Hockey League will report at St. Hyacinthe, Blake, who suffered a broken leg last season in the twilight of a great career, will manage Buffalo of the American Hockey League.

After two weeks of intensive drilling, the squad will head west for a series of exhibition games, opening in Winnipeg Oct. 2. Playing six games in seven nights, the Canadiens are booked for Regina on Oct. 4, Moose Jaw, Oct. 5, Regina Oct. 6, Winnipeg Oct. 7 and Port Arthur Oct. 8.

The western games will be exhibition in name only, said the veteran coach. The scramble for jobs is wide open and the players showing in the games will decide who gets the call.

Parades, Sports And Displays Planned For Army Week Here

Parades, equipment displays, sports and answering civilians' questions will be the orders of the day for all units of the Canadian Army across the Dominion from Sept. 19 to 25, for Army Week.

During the week all active and reserve units in this area will participate in an extensive program designed to familiarize citizens with the work of their local military force.

Maj. C. H. Jervis-Read, E.D., commander of the Esquimalt Garrison, is co-ordinating plans for the units with the assistance of a committee of officers from each unit.

RADIO-CONTROLLED LAUNCH

Among highlights are the showing of a radio-controlled target launch, the "Queen Gull," in the Inner Harbor. The skies will be lit up practically every night by searchlights placed outside the Bay Street Armories and probably in front of the Parliament Buildings.

Activities will commence with an open-air church parade Sunday afternoon, at Beacon Hill Park. Details of all activities have not yet been completed, but it is planned to feature the 5th (B.C.) Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment, R.C.A., and the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's), during the early part of the week and for all units to participate in displays and demonstrations of equipment in the Armories on Wednesday and Thursday.

On Friday, Sept. 24, the active force will have Work Point Barracks and Macaulay Fort open to the public. The active force artillery, recently redesignated the Royal Canadian School of Artillery (Coast and Anti-Aircraft), plans a demonstration gun practice for this day.

A sports program on Saturday will wind up the week-long activities. The Canadian Scottish and the 5th Regiment will clash in a rugby game and a baseball game between the Esquimalt Garrison nine and a team from the U.S. Army base at Fort Warden, Wash., is scheduled.

During the week recruiting booths will be maintained in the Armories where young men desiring to serve in either the active or reserve force will be interviewed and given all possible assistance to enable their entry into units of their choice.

Sooke Artist's Pictures Lifelike

H. C. Holmes opens exhibit of Robert Taylor's pictures in Hudson's Bay Company's Douglas Room.

The Douglas Room of the Hudson's Bay Company is host this week to a collection of paintings, which if small—in all, 30 watercolors and oils—is at the same time, unique and of commanding quality.

The young Sooke artist, Robert Taylor, has already a Dominion-wide reputation, for he has exhibited successfully in the east as well as the west and his work has been purchased by private galleries and reproducing firms in Toronto.

It is remarkable and certainly significant, to find four walls of paintings whose subjects are basically identical and yet as varied in aspect and mood as nature herself. The catalogue tells us simply that these are "studies of duck, geese and brant from life," but the statement does not prepare one for the sheer beauty of "Flood-Water Swamp" or "Evening Flight." These are among several watercolors to which one returns time and again because of the enchantment of their mood and the vitality of the composition.

In delicately handled watercolor and brilliant oil, Mr. Taylor expresses the poetry of graceful flight and the perfect harmony of all natural elements. Cloud and water, marsh growth and bird life, blend and balance with a feeling for color, symmetry and simplicity that is rare.

One of the arresting things about Mr. Taylor's mallards, teal and canvasbacks, is that they appear to have poised only for effect or to have been bewitched in the act of flight. This pulsing life is nowhere more vividly expressed than in "Alarmed," which instantly conjures the sound of wing-beaten water, as a Canada goose rises from its feeding ground.

Technically this work is sensitive, perceptive and secure. This does not mean that the artist is at a standstill. Talent of such calibre must eternally progress and make new discoveries, but it is difficult to imagine a deeper satisfaction than some of these pictures inspire.

The proceeds of the exhibition will go to the re-building fund of Brentwood College, of which school the artist is a former pupil. An opening address was given by H. C. Holmes, who was introduced by E. Colchester, head master of Brentwood College. The exhibition will continue until Friday.

Royal Wedding Gift From Empire To Aid Fairbridge Schools

It was announced Monday that Princess Elizabeth had agreed that the wedding gift to her and the Duke of Edinburgh from the people of the whole of the British Empire shall be devoted to the Fairbridge Farm Schools, in which the Royal Family shows a special interest.

The wedding gift was organized by The Recorder, the world newspaper, and its associate Journal Imperial Review. Subscribers took part in the gift in Britain, Canada, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand, India and all other countries of the British Empire and some outside.

The whole idea of this wedding gift was to let as many people as possible express their good wishes, and so the gift from each individual was fixed at a maximum of one shilling. Special colored subscription forms bearing the engagement picture of the Princess and her fiancé went to every country in the British Empire, and along with their names, subscribers were able to add their personal message and good wishes to the Royal couple, which have been presented in bound volumes.

MANY MESSAGES

Messages of goodwill and affection for the Royal Princess came from every country in the British Empire and most of the world; more than 40,000 people sent in subscriptions and messages.

The fund thus subscribed will go to forward the work of the Fairbridge Farm Schools, founded in 1912 by Kingsley Fairbridge, a young South African Rhodes Scholar whose aim was to help people of under-populated countries of the Empire by taking children from crowded industrial areas in Britain and giving them a better chance in life.

The organization maintains three farm schools in Australia, two in Canada, and other schools at Victoria, Australia and Southern Rhodesia sprang from Fairbridge's inspiration.

English Classes To Start At Y.M.C.A.

A beginners' class in English for new Canadians living in the Greater Victoria area who do not speak English has started at the Y.M.C.A.

Classes will be held Tuesdays at 7.30 it was announced today by Arnold Ramer, general secretary of the association.

The idea originated with Miss Bradshaw and Mrs. Dorsey of the Chinese Christian Community Centre and classes will be open to students of all ages who cannot speak English.

A number of Chinese have already registered for the class and a cordial invitation is extended to East Indians and Europeans.

Harold G. Beall, former Y.M.C.A. secretary and late of the international branch of the Y.M.C.A. in Montreal, has been engaged to teach the class. Mr. Beall has taught classes in English for several years. He was the first physical director of the Victoria "Y" when it was opened in 1911. He left in 1915 to join the staff of the international committee of the Y.M.C.A. and served in India for 13 years.

Scholarship Winners

SALLY WOODS ... wins new English award.

Victoria College Council, following a meeting Monday night, announced its acceptance of an offer from the Victoria Rotary Club to present a scholarship of $150 to the student who during the last school year placed highest in first-year English.

Professor Robert T. Wallace, chairman of the scholarship committee, later announced the new award would go to Miss Sally Woods, who previously was announced as winner of the David Spencer Limited scholarship of $100 for mathematics.

Miss Woods had highest standing in both English and mathematics over all other first-year students at the college last year.

GERALDINE DOBBIN ... gets mathematics scholarship.

The Spencer scholarship now will go to Miss Geraldine Dobbin, who was next in line for the mathematics award.

Both Miss Woods and Miss Dobbin were students at St. Margaret's School before attending Victoria College.

The new award brings to $2,500 the total value of scholarships offered college students here. College councillors were grateful to the Rotary Club for its offer, and expressed the hope the club would make the award annually.

Prof. Wallace said this was the first valuable scholarship to be offered students in English.

Potato Harvest To Meet B.C. Demand, Officials Predict

No shortage of potatoes in British Columbia during the winter and spring now is expected by the provincial agriculture department.

In August the department warned that late blight was taking a heavy toll on the potato crops of the province and drastic steps were necessary to prevent a shortage of tubers developing during the winter and spring. Officials today reported that farmers had rallied to the call and had saved large portions of their crops by spraying and harvesting as directed by the department.

The cool moist summer weather was blamed for the development of the late blight disease in the potato crops. In some areas whole fields were destroyed.

The loss of crop to the late blight is expected to be compensated in full or more by an increase of yield which resulted from the moist weather and long growing period. Officials estimate that the yield is up by 20 per cent.

The last two weeks has brought about a marked improvement in crop prospects throughout the province, officials said. It has made possible the harvesting of much hay about which concern was being expressed before the sun shone warm and the air was dry. It is thought now that the hay crop will be satisfactory.

One official said that the last two weeks had seen a change in the picture from dark depression to bright anticipation.

Permit Issued For $25,000 Building

Permit for construction of a $25,000 building at 744-6-8 Yates Street, north side, has been issued by the city building inspector to P. B. Scurrah, owner of Scurrah's Ltd., ladies' ready-to-wear store, 728 Yates Street.

The building will house three stores and will be ultra-modern in every detail, Mr. Scurrah stated.

Birley Wade and Stockhill are the architects and Lurey and Dillabough the contractors. Hollow tile with stucco facing will be used in construction.

School Principal Finds Struggling England Depressing

"I cannot see how Britain is ever going to pay off its debts," said W. Muncy, principal of Margaret Jenkins School in an address to the Parent-Teacher Association last night.

Mr. Muncy returned only last week from a holiday in England. He found it depressing. "Although the British people are discouraged by taxes and controls from buying anything but essentials in order that everything worthwhile that is manufactured may be exported, the balance of trade is still 'in the red' so far as Britain is concerned," he said.

On food Mr. Muncy said he did not think people in towns could live on their weekly ration unless they fed at least once a day in restaurants where they do not have to give up their coupons.

"Families with young children are better off, for children attending school are provided with good lunches at most reasonable cost. That enables their mothers to concentrate the feeding energies on breakfast and supper," he continued.

He believed that the Labor government was doing good work in looking after the children, but he thought that their government's restrictive practices, their myriad of forms to be filled and flocks of inspectors were knocking all the enthusiastic enterprise out of the country.

Appeal Court To Hear 43 Cases

A heavy agenda faced the Court of Appeal which began its fall session at the courthouse today. A total of 43 cases were listed for hearing, the majority being criminal appeals.

Four judges were present for the opening session, Chief Justice McG. Sloan, Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran, Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson and Mr. Justice Sidney Smith.

The court heard applications for permission to traverse cases to the Vancouver sitting. Several motions were also made requesting the Court to fix dates for hearing of appeals.

The appeal of W. Clark of Vancouver, convicted of assaulting a man with intent to cause grievous bodily harm, was the first case heard by the Court. D. J. McAlpine acted for the appellant. J. McKenna is counsel for the Crown.

Gets 6-Month Jail Term For Theft

Richard Brooks, 24, of Victoria, was sentenced to six months in Oakalla by Magistrate H. C. Hall when he appeared for sentence this morning in city police court. On Monday he was found guilty on a charge of stealing $23 in cash from the garage of Oliver and Lalonde, Broughton and Blanshard Streets, on Aug. 7.

James Drury, Selkirk Avenue, was fined $100 when he pleaded guilty before Magistrate H. C. Hall Monday afternoon in Esquimalt police court to four charges under the Wartime Prices and Trade Board rental controls regulations. The fine was $25 on each count.

Injunction Granted To Halt Strike Vote At Woolworth's

Another controversy over the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, more commonly known as Bill 39, came up in Supreme Court Chambers today as Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane granted the F. W. Woolworth Co. of Victoria an interim injunction against the taking of a strike vote by its employees.

C. K. Guild, appearing for the chain store, sought a ruling by the court on how many strike votes a union can call. He contended that a union could call strike votes every day with the idea of whittling down the number attending until the strike vote was passed unless clarification of sections of the I.C.A. Act was made.

Specifically, he mentioned Section 31A which provides for a strike vote to be taken following conciliation proceedings.

PREVIOUS VOTE
The Retail Clerks Union took a strike vote of Woolworth employees here Aug. 20 following disagreement during negotiations on wage scales and the closed shop issue. The vote was defeated and the union had called another vote for Wednesday.

The injunction only applies until Sept. 23, when both sides will appear in court to argue the matter.

Declare War On T.B. Here With All-Out X-Ray Survey In October

Col. J. Nelson Gibson, active Victoria community worker, has been selected as chairman of the citizens' committee for the 1948 Greater Victoria free chest X-ray survey to commence in October, it was announced today by Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the Victoria-Esquimalt Board of Health.

Col. Gibson, in accepting the position, said it was his wish to see the people of Victoria give every support to his committee in the anti-tuberculosis campaign, and join with the rest of B.C. and Canada in helping stamp out TB once and for all.

"When it was brought home to me that tuberculosis takes one life every 10 days right here in our own Victoria, I realized then that there was a job to be done and one deserves the support of every citizen interested in the health of our communities," the colonel said.

It is hoped an intensive campaign can be put on in the residential areas under the sponsorship of the local Parent-Teachers' Association. Mrs. J. R. Simpson, health convener of the joint council, has volunteered to organize this phase of the survey. The X-raying, which is entirely free to the public, will start in the residential areas about Oct. 20.

Following the residential areas the work will continue in the business and industrial sections of the city. Arrangements for this section of the program are in the hands of Sqdn. Ldr. A. W. J. Smith. Clerical assistance to the X-ray units will be provided by St. John Ambulance with Mrs. E. J. Harwood in charge of volunteer workers.

Later the work will continue in the high schools and the Parliament Buildings.

Market Poor For Canned Herring; B.C. To Step Up Oil, Meal Output

British Columbia's herring industry, overhauled to meet the world demand for protein during the war, this year will slip back further toward its prewar status with less herring being canned for human consumption and more herring being sent to reduction plants for production of oil and meal.

The season officially opened Sept. 1, but there are no fishermen yet fishing for herring. So long as salmon are around, fishermen fish for the more valuable species. Herring fishing usually gets under way during October, with November and December being the months of greatest catches.

Before the war British Columbia produced only about 25,000 cases of herring annually and it went mostly to various foreign markets to feed native peoples. The remainder of the catch went to the reduction plants.

During the war the world needed proteins and herring was one of the ready sources. British Columbia's canning operations were stepped up to the point where more than 1,000,000 cases of herring were produced annually.

Last year the federal government ordered 700,000 cases of herring for European relief.

While the world today is still short of proteins, the demand is not so great as during the war and in the two years following the war.

"The world needs proteins, but it is becoming more choosy," George J. Alexander, deputy fisheries minister, put it.

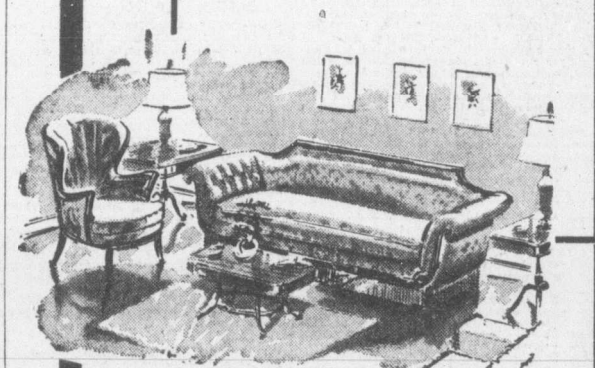

There are no major European orders for B.C. herring this year and the prospects of sales of canned B.C. herring to overseas markets appear slim.

The change to the peacetime operations will mean less profit for herring fishermen and for cannery operators. During the war the plants paid more for herring going into cans than into oil and meal.

The setup for herring fishing will continue the same this year as last. There will be a 40,000-ton quota on the fishery off the east coast of Vancouver Island, and no catch quota on the west coast of Vancouver Island. The chief supervisor of fisheries, however, has the authority to halt fishing off the west coast at any time for conservation purposes.

Y.M.C.A. board of directors will hold their first meeting of the fall season in the Y.M.C.A. board room Friday at 12.10. The finance committee will meet at the "Y" Wednesday at 12.10. Members of the finance committee include E. Harrison, chairman, P. A. Gibbs, J. R. Nicolson, W. T. Straith, H. B. Witter, E. G. Rowbottom, C. E. Stockdill, J. V. Johnson, S. J. D. Clack and C. C. Lewis.
